

Efforts Pressed For Negotiated Peace

MOSCOW (AP) — A British cabinet minister will meet with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko here Monday and diplomats speculate he may act as a go-between for U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's call for peace talks on Viet Nam.

A British embassy spokesman said today an appointment with Gromyko has been arranged for George Thomson, British minister of state for foreign affairs. He will fly back to London after the meeting.

Thomson, the No. 2 man in the British Foreign Office, came to Moscow Friday to sign a cultural agreement.

Diplomats at the United Nations speculated the British minister may discuss U Thant's proposal that both sides in the Vietnamese conflict get together over a conference table.

The U.N. secretary-general said in a statement Friday the main parties in the dispute should arrange for talks before the crisis explodes into a major war. But he played down prospects of any direct role.

Thant repeated a statement he made in Paris last July that the only way to solve the Viet Nam problem was to reconvene the 1954 Geneva conference on the partitioning of French Indochina.

Britain and the Soviet Union were co-chairmen of the conference.

Thant said there would be too many snags to a solution involving the United Nations directly because North Viet Nam and Communist China are not members of the world body.

Britain, which has diplomatic relations with Peking, was considered the logical power to act as liaison in any effort to get a Viet Nam conference under way.

Both French President Charles de Gaulle and Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India have called for another Geneva conference. India is a member of the International Truce Commission on Indochina, charged with preserving the statutes of the 1954 conference.

(The British ambassador to the United States said Friday night in a speech in Williamsburg, Va., that his country may "play a larger and more active role" in support of the U.S. commitment to South Viet Nam.

(But he added military force could play only a limited role in the great struggle for the hearts and minds of men in which we are now engaged.")

The Johnson Administration was officially silent about proposals for a negotiated settlement on Viet Nam. But officials in Washington said privately the United States had never ruled out peace talks and that it was up to North Viet Nam and Communist China to halt guerrilla attacks on South Viet Nam.

Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen predicted in Chicago that military action in Viet Nam may be increased soon. He spoke in a taped radio broadcast and said nothing about negotiations.

The United States should meet increased Viet Cong attacks on U.S. military bases with "equal if not greater intensity and with

Red-Led Students Storm Legation In Budapest

Anti-U.S. Riots Spread

BUDAPEST (AP) — Nearly 1,000 Communist-led students today staged a violent anti-American demonstration and some of them broke into the building of the U.S. legation here.

Slogans - shouting Hungarian, African and Asian students protesting U.S. attacks on North Viet Nam smashed front windows of the legation building in Budapest's Freedom Square.

Some broke into the basement and caused damage to the snack bar and movie, a legation spokesman said.

Legation officials guarded the locked entrance to the building while the crowd outside yelled "down with American aggressors" and hurled stones at the legation.

No one was injured, but damage caused inside the building was considerable, the spokesman said.

The riot started shortly after 11 a.m. Some 800 demonstrators marched on the legation, carrying banners with anti-American slogans.

While the mass of the demonstrators crowded the street and sidewalks and pressed against the legation door, others made their way into the building from a side street by smashing basement windows and climbing into the cellar.

The intruders, however, were prevented by heavy steel doors from reaching the front wing of the building where the legation offices are housed.

This protected part of the building also contains the third-floor apartment of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, who has been living in the sanctuary of the U.S. legation since the collapse of the 1956 anti-Soviet revolution.

The spokesman said two Hungarian policemen guarding the legation were helpless against more weapons and greater firepower," Dirksen said.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, praised Thant's suggestion for a conference.

"Personally, I think it is always wiser to talk than to fight when you can get the parties together," Fulbright told a newsman.

U.S. Silent On Plan For Negotiated Peace

The Navy has kept an eye on the vessel since it was spotted last month off Vancouver Island, Canada. West Virginia Teacher Pay Hike Bill OK'd

Legislature Gives Approval; Smith's Signature Waited

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Passage by both houses of a $32 million program to increase teacher's salaries highlighted action in the legislature this week.

Unanimous votes Friday of 32-0 in the Senate, and 98-0 in the House, sent the measure to Gov. Hulett Smith, who had endorsed the bill. His signature will put the act into effect July 1.

School officials estimate the measure will raise the average annual salary of West Virginia's public school teachers by more than $1,300 over the next three years. During this time teachers will get increases in base pay and in experience step-ups. The salary year will be lengthened from 9 1/2 to 10 months during the third year.

Harry R. Pauley, D-McDowell chairman of the House Education Committee, estimated the program's cost at $10 million each of the first two years and $12 million the third year. This is $1.5 million more than previous estimates.

In Delinquency Attack Group Proposed To Aid Juveniles

Dr. Blair Whittington, pastor of the Second Church of Christ, who participated in a similar program in New Castle, was named Friday as temporary chairman of a committee to set up a permanent organization of East Liverpool citizens to aid juvenile delinquents.

His appointment came at a meeting arranged by the Lions Club, which brought together juvenile officers, law enforcement officers and representatives of the East Liverpool Ministerial Association, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Fraternal Order of Police Associates.

THEY HAD attended a club forum at which the Rev. James Leckie, founder and president of Youth Guidance, Inc., of Pittsburgh, spoke.

Paul Zaperach, director of the Columbiana County Youth for Christ, was named temporary secretary.

A meeting was set tentatively for the first week in March with the hope of establishing a permanent organization by June 1.

Ralph Compa, chairman of the Lions Club forum on juvenile behavior, presided. Others attending were Juvenile Judge

CONFERENCE URGED ON VIET CRISIS. United Nations Secretary-General U Thant is shown reading a statement in New York Friday, appealing for East-West talks on the crisis in Viet Nam. Thant said the crisis should be moved "away from the field of battle to the conference table." He urged both sides in the meantime to "refrain from new acts which may lead to an escalation of the war." (UPI Telephoto)

Cosa Nostra Eyed By Grand Juries

U.S. Sifts Reports Rich Hoodlums Control Banks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A network of so-called "families" which rule underworld affairs and reap millions of dollars annually from gambling, narcotics, rackets and legitimate business enterprises.

Having purchased control of a bank, one investigator said, the racketeers are free to use its charter as a license to steal and turn the bank into a convenient clearing house for ill-gotten "hot" money.

As for the few banks said to be involved, government officials refuse to name them or their locations since investigations are under way, and have been for months, by at least two grand juries. But the most reliable information is that the hoodlum banks, as investigators call them, are in the New York area.

Could Throw Election Into Courts

Abel Says Protests Loom On USW Vote Procedures

PITTSBURGH (AP) — I. W. Abel spoke out for the first time today on the close United Steelworkers Union election and said plans were being made to protest voting procedures.

In a statement, Abel gave the first indication of definite plans to file protests that could throw the election into the courts.

Until now, there had been only mutterings from his supporters and the backers of incumbent President David J. McDonald. Abel, the union's secretary-treasurer, leads McDonald by a slim margin in the unofficial Associated Press count.

"We are in the process of collecting information on voting irregularities in a number of places," Abel said, "and we believe that as a result of the protests which will be filed, the incumbent president will lose many thousands of additional votes."

Abel also predicted he would eventually win by 10,000 votes. But he declined to claim victory outright.

There was no immediate comment from the McDonald camp, but his supporters have been trading charges with the Abel camp almost from the moment the polls opened.

Abel did not mention in his statement any specific targets of the protests.

The one thing the steel industry has feared is a long court fight. It is currently trying to reach a new labor agreement with the USW, but talks are in recess pending outcome of the election.

The union can strike May 1, and has already rejected offers for a deadline extension.

Mob Of Youths Attacks U.S. Library In Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Riot police, reinforced by heavily armed soldiers and helicopter support, battled leftists who stormed the downtown section today, demanding overthrow of the Malaysia federation.

One mob of about 200 youths marched on the U.S. Information Service library, smashing windows with poles, rocks and by hurling a bicycle into the building.

Tear gas barrages pushed back the demonstrators and police erected barbed wire barricades at key intersections. Soldiers with fixed bayonets and automatic weapons manned the barricades.

Downtown streets were cleared after several hours and an emergency curfew was clamped on the heart of the capital. Major thoroughfares were deserted.

The government radio broadcast warnings for all persons to stay indoors. The cabinet of Prime Minister Abdul Rahman met in emergency session.

Police helicopters buzzed the city as troops fanned out through the main downtown streets, setting up additional barbed wire barricades.

Police paddy wagons carted demonstrators to jail by the dozens. The chief federal police spokesman said he had no immediate figure on the number of

In Sales Tax Appeal

Education Group May Be Pounding At A Stone Wall

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — An out-of-state visitor wandered into the Statehouse press room the other night, more than a little confused by the furor over the bill to beef up public school assistance by increasing the sales tax.

"I thought your governor was committed against any new or increased taxes," he said. "Isn't this pretty much a lost cause?"

This brief commentary on Ohio's big school money debate sums up what legislative insiders have been saying privately for months.

Rhodes Takes A Stand

Gov. James A. Rhodes' position against a state tax increase looms as an insurmountable hurdle for Ohio education groups hoping to win legislative approval of their initiated bill.

Ohioans will hear a great deal more about this bill over the next several weeks. About 200 persons showed up for the first hearing last Wednesday night and at least two more hearings will be held during the next month.

But, as the visitor observed that night, Ohioans may be witnessing a spectacular exercise in legislative futility.

Rhodes never wants to see this bill come to his desk.

And to get there, it would have to clear the House Education Committee, the House Rules Committee, the House itself, the Senate Rules Committee, Senate Education Committee, Senate Rules Committee again and, finally, the Senate.

This makes Rhodes the safety man on a team whose players already outnumber the opposition and who can be expected to stop the play before the goal line is approached.

Rhodes has used his executive veto only twice, both times during the regular session in 1963 on relatively noncontroversial bills containing obvious flaws.

Dislikes Veto

He does not want to be placed in the position of having to use the veto in this instance but few doubt that he would if it came to that.

But the Ohio Council for Education (OCE), which initiated the bill is undaunted.

In the first two-hour hearing, a dozen witnesses marched up to the committee table displaying firm conviction in their cause and giving no indication there is anything "lost" about it.

While the bill proposes an increase in the sales tax from 3 to 4 per cent, OCE witnesses are trying to take the emphasis off this point.

The goal, they said, is better education, not new taxes.

This Time It's Planned

Perhaps their best argument for fighting this apparent uphill battle was expressed by a witness who said the tax increase was proposed because past legislatures have spurned education plans submitted without suggestions for financing the improvements.

The OCE contends Rhodes' tax stand shifts the burden to local districts which are meeting mounting resistance to property tax increases for education.

Meanwhile, the governor will submit to the legislature Monday night his proposal for increasing state aid to education by $113 million over the next biennium without new taxes.

His budget, he has said, will provide a flat $200-a-year salary boost for teachers.

'Not Far Enough'

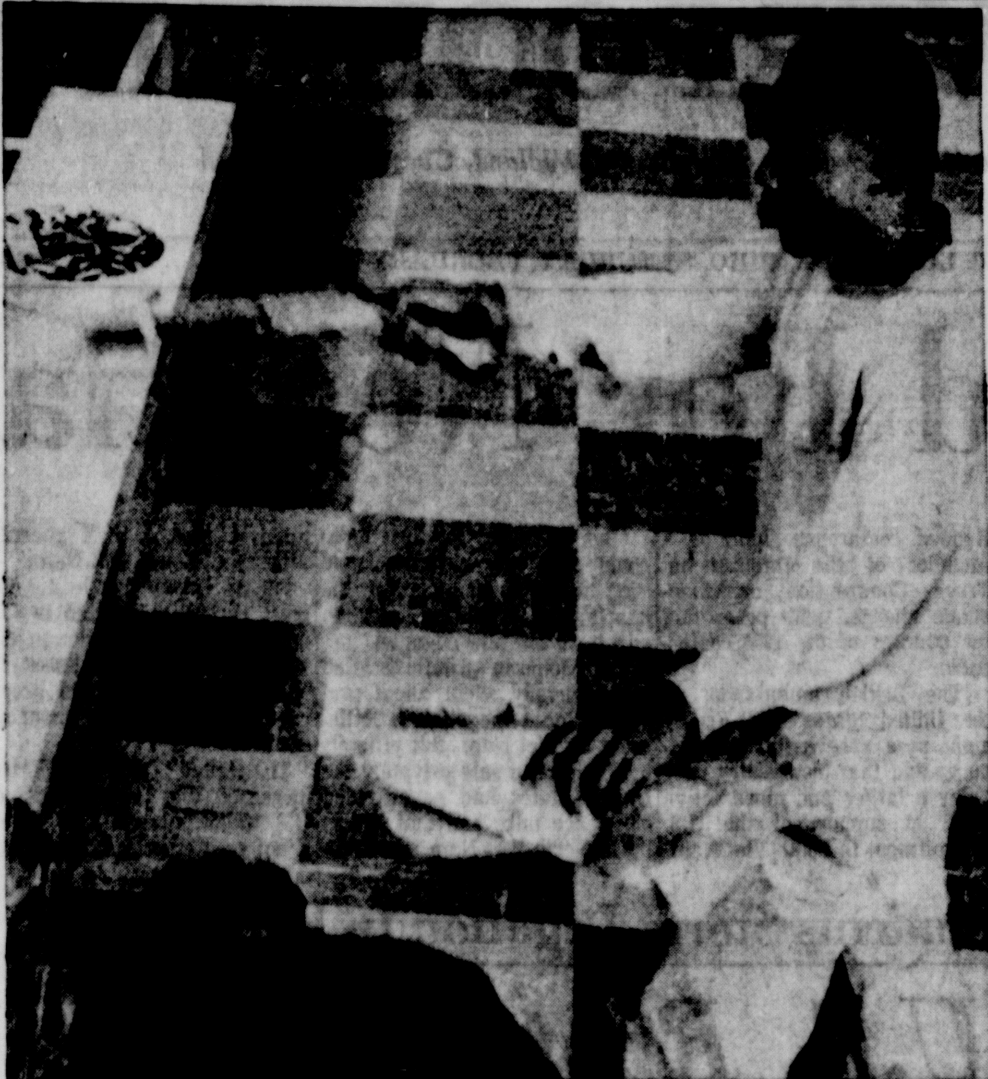

OCE representatives say this is fine as far as it goes but it doesn't go nearly far enough.

The OCE proposal would provide $116 million a year. It would raise the minimum guaranteed salary from $3,800 to $4,500 and provide substantial increases throughout the school foundation program.

If the legislature fails to enact the OCE proposal, the group has said it will gain the necessary signatures on petitions to put the issue on the ballot.

Thus there will be no let-up in this campaign before the legislature, futile or not.

If nothing else, it could serve to lay much of the groundwork for an even tougher campaign before the voters.

A BANK BANDIT, carrying a sawed-off shotgun, was caught by a hidden camera in the United California Bank at Los Angeles just after he hit a customer with the weapon. The man failed to comply quickly with the bandit's demands. As the customer fell to the floor, the gun was turned on the assistant bank manager, who is out of the picture. The bandit and two accomplices raided the teller cash drawers and escaped with $4,600. They still are at large. (UPI Telephoto)

Wirtz, Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor and Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., comprised the panel named by Johnson Wednesday to seek a solution to the dock impasse by noon Friday.

Although the mediators failed to end the strike at all ports, sources said the ILA's agreement to return to work at the major ports accomplished Johnson's major objective.

Johnson called the board's recommendations "wise, sound and prudent." He said they had his full backing and added that "to the extent that this procedure has resulted in reopening ports, it is a job well and superbly done."

of South Viet Nam to the Reds. As one high source put it: "If they want us out of South Viet Nam, a good way would be to call off their guerrillas and leave the country alone."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk has expressed a similar view repeatedly.

White House press secretary George E. Reedy refused to comment on a proposal by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant Friday that both sides in the Viet Nam conflict begin talks preparatory to negotiations.

State Department officials said they found Thant's proposal vague and viewed it as a public statement rather than as a formal proposal to governments that would be involved.

Senate support for negotiation came from several sources, including Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

He called Thant's proposal a good suggestion, and added: "Personally, I think it is always wiser to talk than to fight when you can get the parties together."

In Chicago, Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois predicted military action in Viet Nam may be increased soon.

Dirksen spoke on a taped radio broadcast and said nothing about negotiation.

The United States should meet increased Viet Cong attacks on U.S. military posts with "equal if not greater intensity and with more weapons and greater firepower," Dirksen said.

In a related development, informed sources reported Friday that Prime Minister Harold Wilson has told President Johnson Britain supports U.S. actions in Viet Nam but is interested in finding ways toward a peaceful settlement.

Wilson called the President Thursday. Johnson's reply was not disclosed.

George Thomson, Britain's minister of state for foreign affairs, has been sent to Moscow to conclude a British-Soviet cultural agreement.

A British embassy spokesman said that while Thomson took along no proposals of any kind on Viet Nam "he naturally will be prepared to listen to Russian views if the subject arises."

The White House acknowledged, meanwhile, receipt of a communication from Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, but made no comment on its substance.

Lawrenceville Post Intruders Take Cash

An undetermined amount of money was stolen by intruders who ransacked the Lawrenceville American Legion home after crawling through a vent.

The burglary occurred between Thursday midnight and Friday afternoon. The thieves stacked concrete blocks outside the building to reach the vent to gain entry.

After knocking out the vent, the thieves squeezed through an 8-x-18-inch opening and then broke into three vending machines, the Hancock County sheriff's office said. No attempt was made to break into the safe, they added.

Ed Emmerling and William Smith were retained as members of the firemen's indemnity board.

Trustees agreed to study ditch repair needs reported by a delegation from the Valley Ave. area. The next meeting will be held Feb. 26.

Mrs. Ben Henderson was a guest.

Games and contests were played. A valentine theme was used in the table decorations. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Mike Andrews and Mrs. John Andrews.

Mrs. Dean Laughlin will be hostess March 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Waller of Weirton were Thursday guests of Mrs. Dean Laughlin.

The Best Place To Buy After All

Stronger All The Time

The fact President Johnson has not done all the things he could do to stem the outward flow of U.S. wealth surely does not mean he could not do some of the other things later.

So far he has asked U.S. bankers and businessmen to cooperate with the government in its efforts to check the dollar outflow and has clamped a deterrent tax on U.S. bank loans abroad.

He has asked Congress to lower the ceiling on duty-free exemptions for homecoming travelers who have been taking advantage of a $166 ceiling.

But he has not made any move to bring home some of those top-heavy U.S. garrisons living off the fat of the land abroad.

He has said nothing about a moratorium on further authorization for foreign aid.

He has sidestepped the proposal to put a head tax on U.S. tourists planning to go abroad for spending sprees, many of them on foreign ships and planes.

He has made no overt move to jack up interest rates at home to keep investment money from seeking investment opportunities abroad.

The President is under a heavy obligation to do everything he can to keep the United States from being milked dry of its gold by outsiders who would rather have the gold than the U.S. dollar credits they can turn in for gold.

He hopes business will do everything it can to help him carry out this obligation. He hopes his countrymen will do everything they can to help him carry out the obligation. Otherwise, the dollar will not get stronger all the time, the way he promises it will.

But what he has not felt it necessary to say so far is that if he doesn't get all the help he needs from those who are in a position to give it to him he will not be responsible alone for the consequences of a weakening dollar.

Either the United States will stop the steady drain on its gold supply, or its citizens will find themselves at the mercy of all the countries they have been taxing themselves to save from collapse, chaos and communism—and that would amount to being left friendless in a cold, indifferent world.

Moving Forward

Higher education is moving forward on several fronts in the district.

Pennsylvania State University has been given the go-ahead for a branch campus in Beaver County; Kent State University has been chosen to open a branch in East Liverpool, and Columbiana County's Regional Planning Commission is endeavoring to coordinate various other educational proposals now receiving attention.

Final approval of the Kent State branch here could come at the March meeting in Columbus of the Ohio Board of Regents. The earlier the OK, the quicker plans can be completed for opening the doors of the much-needed educational facility in the fall.

The four-year program that will result will have advantages over the two-year plan that goes with a community college.

No only will it serve those just starting up the ladder of higher education, but it will answer some of the needs of many already in the teaching profession who are anxious to expand their training.

The progress being made is most encouraging.

Our Veep Should Take A Bow

Hubert H. Humphrey, is entitled to one of his wide grins over the furor caused by his absence at Sir Winston Churchill's funeral.

It must never have occurred to him in his most expansive moments during the campaign last year that he could gain so much status in so short a time once he had been elected. Vice presidents traditionally are out of sight and out of mind.

Whatever President Johnson's thought processes may have been when he did not send Vice President Humphrey to London for the Churchill funeral, his thought processes since then must have been crisscrossed with perplexity.

When and how did the man he picked for his running mate acquire the stature that has caused some of the severest critics of Hubert H. Humphrey the vice presidential candidate to speak of him lately as the only American important enough to have stood in for the ailing President Johnson at the Churchill rites?

When and how did the people now referring to Mr. Humphrey as the second-ranking figure in U.S. government get the impression that the chief justice of the United States no longer is awarded that distinction?

Mr. Chief Justice Warren represented the United States at the Churchill funeral. He was backed up by the U.S. secretary of state, Dean Rusk, and the chief representative of the United States in the United Kingdom, David K. E. Bruce.

In the absence of President Johnson, himself, this wasn't bad representation for the funeral of a man who was not a head of state. Yet, it is now being said that only Vice President Humphrey packed enough prestige to do the job.

Remembering how he has belittled the vice presidency and of what slight importance the job had until recently, Mr. Humphrey is entitled to take a bow.

He is a bigger man than he thought he was.

Friends In Need

Scarcely a day passes that the around-the-clock service of the police and fire departments isn't brought to mind in one way or another.

This time it was the police and the incident of the "lost boy." Tomorrow it may be the firemen freeing a terrified cat trapped on some lofty perch.

A policeman is more than a man with a badge and a gun stalking those who defy the law. And a fireman is more than a man dashing to a blaze on a truck with siren screaming. Each is a friend in need. They're nice people to have around.

Keep It A Close Secret

You may not have read the cryptic story from Los Angeles about the county janitor who accidentally threw out a box containing 70,000 punch cards.

The holes and slots in the cards represented the names and addresses of 70,000 county employees. After the janitor threw them out, the computer they were going to be fed into stood mute and helpless.

It couldn't chatter and automate in a few minutes the task that once would have taken hundreds of man-hours of remunerative labor. Efficiency vanished in a trace — no longer than it took the janitor to give a little box the toss. Humanity was restored to a place of importance by an accident.

Thereafter, inefficiency began to pile up like a snowball rolling downhill. Mailing deadlines were missed. Handwork had to be done as it used to be done routinely in the good old days before automation.

The story is of no real consequence. Neither was it of any real consequence generations ago when a French worker learned what would happen when a wooden shoe was dropped into one of the mechanized contrivances displacing workers of that era.

It is not known whether the worker dropped the first "sabot" in the machinery accidentally or intentionally. The damage was done. "Sabotage" became an important word in the language of the industrial revolution and subsequently of the industrial era.

Will the word of tomorrow be, perhaps, "counter-punch"?

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: I have made a breakthrough in my circumscribed existence. Yesterday I put a sign in the front window: Reader And Adviser.

Your Aunt Effie thinks it should be Reader And Adviser, but I looked up the spelling and both ways are correct. Most of the people in this line of work around here spell it "advisor," but I am not like them.

I am putting my ears on a paying basis. I do not claim to be either a "reader" or an "advisor" and may be breaking the law by practicing reading and advising without a license.

That would be a laugh, because I have been practicing them without a license for years. The only difference is that now I have a sign.

AS ONE OF MY clients when I was doing this for nothing, you know about my technique. I listen and make rejoinders that keep the conversation headed in the direction the client wants it to go.

What the client wants to do is talk about himself and his problems.

What I do is stifle the impulse to talk about myself and my problems. Most people do not do this. That is why most people are not good listeners.

People come from miles around to tell me their tales of woe. Some come just to have a chance to get things off their chest.

By Truman Twill

Once in awhile I get a client who actually wants to be advised, or so he says, and when that happens I find out what he almost has made up his mind to do and urge him to do it. This makes him happy.

It vindicates what he wanted to think was his good judgment.

If a client reveals he has doubts about doing something, I try to appraise the importance of his doubts and back them up with doubts of my own. Again, this makes everybody happy.

YOUR REAL "readers" and "advisors," I understand, are cagier and smarter than this — full of important stuff and penetrating vision. Me, I don't have anything like that. I've never been able to see beyond tomorrow and have nothing occult going for me unless it's the way my sinuses predict changes in weather.

By and large I think I have as much to offer civilization as these other people and see no reason I shouldn't be paid for it. Your aunt and I haven't agreed on a charge.

I am available during evenings by appointment only, but my rates are higher after dark.

Your aunt does not approve of all this, but she only is sore because I intend to charge her for listening like everybody else.

COTTON CORNERS UNCLE GEORGE

Labor-Management Problem Worsens

By DAVID LAWRENCE

A major crisis in labor-management relations in America is building up under the very eyes of the President and congress — yet virtually nothing is being done about it. Here are some of the developments:

1. A devastating strike, shutting down maritime transportation at Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports, cost $2 billion and caused untold damage to business operations due to shipping delays. Yet Congress didn't even take up the subject, much less consider any legislation to prevent a recurrence.

2. Labor unions and the companies signed contracts in all but two ports, but the workers nevertheless continued to stay on strike. The union members in cities where agreements with management were signed refused to return to work until settlements were reached in all the other ports. It's an example of a far-reaching monopoly.

3. Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers Union, confers with President Johnson and then, on the steps of the White House, announces that his union is seeking to merge with the International Union of Electrical Workers, thus adding 300,000 members to an organization already composed of nearly 1.2 million auto workers. No intimation comes from the President as to whether he approves such a merger. As for the Department of Justice, it, too, is silent.

4. A HOTLY CONTESTED election in the Steelworkers' Union, with 976,000 members, has just emphasized the strong undercurrents of friction which exercise a tremendous influence on collective-bargaining negotiations, as each candidate vies with the other in promising to win bigger and bigger benefits from the employers under threat of a strike.

5. The Department of Labor has become an adjunct of the AFL-CIO, and the secretary of labor is told what to do by the union chieftains. John A. Trimes, labor-relations specialist for The Wall Street Journal, writes as follows:

"The federation feels such a strong proprietary interest in the Johnson administration's activities that it claims a veto power over Mr. Wirtz. Three times in recent weeks the secretary has started out to do something and has found the considerable bulk of federation President George Meany blocking the way."

IT'S REPORTED that the secretary of labor has to consult with union officials about appointments in his department, and that he recently couldn't remove one man and replace him with another just because the labor unions objected.

It has been customary for several years now, under both Republican and Democratic administrations, to have a secretary of labor who not only is friendly to labor but acts virtually as an agent of the labor unions. Nobody in the cabinet has any corresponding position in behalf of management. It's often assumed that the secretary of commerce performs this task — but he doesn't. Theoretically, an assistant secretary in the Department of Labor is supposed to express the business viewpoint. His is a small voice, however, in a department that is committed to take labor's side and actively espouse it.

The only remedy lies in giving management a representative equal in stature to the secretary of labor, or in lodging more power in the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and separating it completely from Department of Labor influence.

This independent agency could deal, officially and unofficially, with labor-management relations for the purpose of preventing strikes. A partisan of labor cannot solve thorny questions in labor-management relations. It has to be done by a team representing all sides.

'He Had A Note Tied To His Rock Asking For Political Asylum'

Strike Fever Worries President

By VICTOR RIESEL

Behind President Johnson's cold fury over the $2 billion waterfront stoppage has been the fear of a new fever—strike fever.

Work stoppages are contagious and with war bulletins pouring in, the nation can ill afford an epidemic of strikes. Few realize that the season is just ripe for such a chain reaction among hundreds of thousands of workers in the nation's key industries.

On the 31st day of the Longshoremen's paralysis, with 800 heavily laden ships frozen in or just outside U.S. ports from Maine to Mexico, White House insiders were briefed on looming new labor crises.

Within six weeks union contracts begin to expire in the strategic rubber and aerospace installations across the land.

THESE EXPIRATIONS run right on through the end of the year affecting such companies as Goodyear, Firestone, Goodrich, Boeing, Douglas, North American Aviation, Martin-Marietta and Ling-Temco-Vought.

Just how high the demands on these basic space, defense, industrial corporations will run won't be known until after the Auto Union Aerospace Council meets in San Diego Feb. 25 and 26.

Certainly since the Longshoremen have already gotten hikes of 20 cents an hour and the Auto Workers won just about as much during long strikes last year, the Aerospace Workers will demand as much.

Their leader is the Auto Union's hard-bargaining Leonard Woodcock who also heads the UAW's General Motors division. And certainly the aerospace companies, whose biggest customer is the U.S. government, will resist.

In the midst of all this will come the snarled steel industry negotiations which eventually will affect more than a million workers.

ADDING A STRAIN to the already sleepless Labor Secretary, Willard Wirtz, who has been briefing the President personally and regularly, is a sleeper crisis.

Sometime in May the already distraught ship owners will begin bargaining with some really tough labor leaders — those who lead the 100,000 men who actually go to sea.

Their contract expires on June 15. Let no one be surprised if there is another dockside tie-up, this time hitting the West Coast, Alaska and Hawaii as well as the Maine to Mexico stretch.

With two billion dollars as the estimated cost of a month of longshore stoppage, there's no doubt that massive strikes in the other key fields would far more than triple such losses in the event of long walkouts in the next six months.

THE PRESIDENT already has been angered by the fact that his labor friends would do this to him and to the country itself.

Reportedly he hit the White House ceiling when he was informed that the dockers walk-out had kept $67 million a day from being exported. Since $44 million a day is the import figure, the U.S. lost a balance of $23 million daily in the first month of the pier stoppage.

True, some of this will be made up, but the figure which irritated the President was the immediate loss of $690 million in the first month of the dockside strike. This is disastrously high at a moment when each dollar is vital to the gold reserve.

Furthermore, millions of dollars have been lost in taxes. In all there were some 23,000 fully loaded freight cars immobilized right in the harbors and as many more embargoed across the country. Each car holds an average of 40 tons.

WITH NO PLACE to load and unload and no freight cars heading for the ports, at least 45,000 railroad workers and truck drivers were laid off. In all, about 190,000 men went jobless in those first 31 days.

They lost millions of dollars in wages and companies' profits were equally cut. Thus the tax income level will be off for the year.

And most dangerous in this period is the fact that it will take six to eight weeks to clear up all stalled traffic. Small wonder the President and his advisers are deeply disturbed by the threat of strike fever.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

After reading a Wellsville resident's letter concerning hunting foxes for bounty, I feel it is necessary to point out a few facts about fox hunting that he doesn't seem to understand.

First of all, there isn't such a thing as a bounty hunter. The amount of a bounty was never set high enough to make it profitable to hunt the fox for strictly bounty alone. It merely offsets some of the expense of the many miles a fox hunter must travel from one end of the county to the other in pursuit of the fox. After killing a few foxes in an area they will move out and the hunter has to find their new location.

In the Wellsville area alone, especially Coal Hollow, I know of 27 foxes that were taken last summer and fall. Think of the consequences if an epidemic of rabies had spread among these foxes. West Virginia had this same episode happen not long ago.

Instead of sympathy for the baby fox let's sympathize with the many children who would be exposed to the terrible disease of rabies if we let our foxes overpopulate. Surprisingly enough gray foxes are found in greater number near towns, while the red fox prefers an isolated area. As was pointed out in a letter to the editor a short time ago by Mr. Brown of the Hammondsville area, the gray fox is by far the most numerous in our area.

I don't like cruelty to any animal, but when I think of the many nests of baby rabbits that are either eaten or left to starve just to feed a fox. My conscience would not bother me in the least to kill him any time or any way that I can. No finer piece of conservation can be the average sportsman perform in his hunting area than to cut down the number of fox that stay fat on the game he expects to find every hunting season.

As most of the sportsmen in our area know the East Liverpool Beagle Club put a fox-proof fence around a large area to see if it could increase the rabbit population. The results have been an overwhelming success. Anyone interested in this experiment should contact one of the members and he will undoubtedly be more than glad to show what they have done by fencing out the foxes.

We know we can't fence out all the foxes. What we can do is to support the hunters who work all year thinning out the fox population thus improving our hunting areas, protecting the farmer's poultry and minimizing the risk of a rabies epidemic.

demonic from the fox. Any warm-blooded animal is capable of carrying rabies, but few present the danger of spreading rabies over as large an area as the fox because by nature he likes to travel.

Pennsylvania has a very fine system of handling bounty on the fox. It is statewide except in hunting season as they feel any hunter who has a chance to shoot a fox at that time will do so without bounty. West Virginia pays bounty.

In our own state we have Belmont, Carroll, Monroe, Noble and Washington counties, just to mention a few, that have a bounty system. So it doesn't make sense that these people would collect from Columbiana County when they can do so in their area. I have the utmost confidence in our sheriff and county commissioners that they know to whom and why the bounty money is paid out.

Pertaining to the hazards of shooting at night, only a shotgun is suitable for this type of hunting and it is safer than the average rabbit hunt in daytime, as most foxes are shot within 20 to 30 feet of the hunter. A bright headlight is a must for this type of hunting and is kept on at all times.

First of all the property owner has either given his permission to hunt in that particular area or has requested the hunter to kill the fox on his place. Good public relations is a must for any sportsman. Fox hunters are no exception. I feel they are doing the public a service that is appreciated by an overwhelming majority of sportsmen and property owners in rural areas.

Some of the finest sportsmen in our county run foxes for sport and we respect their right to pursue their sport. The ones I have talked to agree that it is to their benefit to remove as many gray foxes as possible from the area they run their dogs in.

I myself have been a taxpayer in Columbiana County for several years and I strongly urge our county commissioners to continue the bounty on the fox. Now that we have him on the run let's continue our good work, otherwise they will soon overpopulate in the areas we have already thinned out.

C. M. STOFFEL
R.D. 1, Wellsville

(Editor's Note — We feel that both sides have been presented adequately on the fox issue. With publication of the above letter, we will let the matter rest, at least for the time being.

APPARENTLY the "Businessmen for Johnson" group, which was rather conspicuous in the 1964 presidential campaign, hasn't been able to persuade the administration that there should no longer be partisan on behalf of either management or labor and that the public interest demands impartiality and an equitable approach.

The fact is that the labor unions have a big vested interest in the Johnson administration. It's estimated that in some states the amount of money contributed by the labor unions to the Johnson-Humphrey campaign was far in excess of what the regular political organizations raised.

The whole labor-management problem is getting worse every year, not only because of the serious strikes that break out but because the collective-bargaining process itself today a threat of costly strikes, to yield to more and more labor-union demands. It's a system which the government tolerates even though the public interest suffers.

2nd In Concert Series

Piano Duo Will Perform Feb. 23

One of the country's top twin-Steinway concert combinations, Stecher and Horowitz, will appear in the second concert for the season of the Tri-State Civic Music Association to be given at 8:15 p. m. Feb. 23 at Westgate School.

Thirteen years ago, Melvin Stecher and Norman Horowitz joined their stunning pianistic talents to form what is now the leading young two-piano teams in America. New Yorkers, born and bred, each had a highly creditable list of symphony and solo performances, before they had reached the age of 20.

Both still are New Yorkers but their joint adventures during the past 13 years have taken them far afield and down just about as many musical roads as a Steinway-two piano van can travel.

Solidly grounded in the classics, ardent and intensive students of both their instrument and its literature, Stecher and Horowitz are youthful, open-minded and mindful of today's taste, sponsors said. Their pairing of virtuosity and versatility is evident in the stretch of their repertoire, the scope of their activities.

Their names first became familiar to the public when the two young men were featured in an engagement, extended and re-extended, at the Radio City Music Hall. They gave a total of 84 performances in the famous hall where the names of many of today's most noted artists first became household world words.

During the fall of 1959, under the auspices of the State Department, Stecher and Horowitz appeared as guest artists with the Roger Wagner Choral in 18 countries of Central and South America.

They are directors of a music school in New York which bears their name. It is a symbol of the artists' intense desire to develop the musical tastes and talents of their home community at Cedarhurst. In addition to being pianists and teachers, they are composers with a publication of a new series called "Learning to Play" for the young piano student.

The association said the audience is in for a real thrill as Stecher and Horowitz are the most exciting musicians on the scene today.

Military Warehouse Blows Up In Jittery Viet Capital

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A military warehouse used for storing oxygen tanks blew up this evening, casting a pall of smoke over Saigon.

Most of Saigon's fire brigade was called out to stem the flames because of fears the fire might engulf several other oxygen sheds.

The explosion was inside one of Saigon's main Vietnamese military compounds, in a one-story concrete warehouse.

Authorities declined to say whether they thought sabotage was involved.

There were no reports of serious casualties. Only one American adviser worked in the compound and he was not hurt.

Tens of thousands of spectators on foot and on bicycles jammed streets leading to the compound, blocking movement of emergency vehicles.

All of Saigon is jumpy with expectation of new Viet Cong terror bombings, particularly in view of this week's air raids on Communist North Viet Nam.

Earlier today, planes dumped tons of leaflets over the city, giving details of the air raids and explaining to the people why they were carried out.

Along with the jitters over possible return strikes from North Viet Nam, a twin-engine airplane that failed to file a flight plan put the newly installed U.S. Hawk anti-aircraft missile battery to a test at Da Nang air base north of here Friday. The plane proved to be friendly, but not before causing a combat alert.

The Hawk battery's radar tracked the plane and jet interceptors scrambled and escorted it toward the base.

The incident underscored that the missiles, coupled with a radar system, were ready for a possible air strike from Communist North Viet Nam.

President Johnson ordered them to Da Nang from Okinawa this week after the Communist attack at Pleiku that killed eight Americans.

Supersonic U. S. Air Force F102 jet fighters are also on guard at the base, from which the United States launched two of its three retaliatory air strikes this week against military installations in North Viet Nam.

More than 1,800 U.S. servicemen are stationed at Da Nang, which is considered a prime target for Viet Cong mortar crews.

Vietnamese planes blasted Friday a band of Red guerrillas dug in at the base's perimeter. Five Communists were killed and ten others captured.

North Viet Nam claimed today that the Viet Cong killed or wounded more than 300 Americans and 1,700 South Vietnamese government forces in four days ending Wednesday.

Hancock-Brooke Unit Gets Report On Mental Health

Reports on the January activity of the Hancock-Brooke County Mental Health Service were given by Mrs. John L. Sullivan, director and psychiatric worker, when the advisory committee met Wednesday at Weirton General Hospital.

Five additional families were received for counseling, she added. In addition to individually-made appointments, referrals were received from physicians, elementary school principals and county health and school nurses.

The mental health service is sponsored by the Hancock-Brooke County Mental Health Society in cooperation with the medical, dental and administrative staffs of Weirton General Hospital.

The service operates each Wednesday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. by appointment only at Weirton General Hospital. Appointments may be made by telephoning the hospital at 748-3232. The advisory committee's next meeting will be Wednesday, March 10, at the hospital.

Annual Meeting Held

Robert Kelm At Lisbon Heads Historical Unit

LISBON — Robert Kelm of Lisbon, was elected president of the Columbiana County Historical Association when directors held the annual reorganizational meeting Wednesday night in the Village Hall. He succeeds Robert Cole of East Palestine.

Other officers named were Tom Pike of Guilford Lake, first vice president; Roy Guy of Columbiana, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Kelm of Lisbon, secretary, and Carl Burcaw of Salem re-elected treasurer.

A general discussion followed on the county's historical points of interest and the work being done to restore them by the association, local historical societies and the Forest and Parks Council.

R. Max Gard, county commissioner and charter member, recalled that 20 years ago "hardly anyone was interested in preserving our historical landmarks. Today many people donate countless hours of time and labor in such projects as the Beaver Creek State Park and Gaston's Mill restoration."

Floyd Lower, a member of the association and leader in the Forest and Parks Council, reported on the Gaston's Mill work to date.

Less than two years ago the mill stood virtually in ruins. Representatives of the state estimated cost of restoration at approximately $78,000.

Today with actually only one full year of work, the restoration of the mill itself is complete and the parks council is now working on the replacement of the mill race and the equipment necessary for complete operation.

Many old pieces including grinding stones have been secured and a huge water-wheel is being made.

"The remarkable part of the restoration is that to date, this work has been accomplished at a cost of only $15,000. This represents about half of the total necessary for completion, indicating the fine leadership of work," he commented.

Many individuals and organizations, along with the former county commissioners, have helped provide the necessary funds for material and labor. A countywide drive is now being conducted for more funds for finishing the project. Last year, approximately 169,000 persons visited or camped in the Beaver Creek State Park, near the old mill.

An old, abandoned church near Williamsport is to be purchased and restored for non-denominational services for Sunday visitors and campers in the park. This project is being undertaken by area churches.

Anyone desiring to contribute to these projects may do so through the historical association of the parks council in Lisbon.

Regular meetings of the association will be held the second Wednesday of each month and Kelm said visitors and members of local historical societies are invited.

The next meeting will be held March 10 at 8 p. m. in the Village Hall.

Captain Escapes Serious Injury In Crash-Landing

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — An Army Captain escaped serious injury when his light plane crash-landed on a mountain near here Friday.

Capt. Marshal R. Frizzell, 33, of Brattleboro, Vt., was in satisfactory condition in a hospital with a sprained ankle, bruised ribs and a cut on the face.

The loss to the home of James E. Burgess of Pine Grove Ridge, near Hammondsville, was set at $2,000.

Wellsville volunteer firemen were summoned, but the trailer was enveloped in flames by the time they arrived.

The trailer is located on property owned by and adjacent to the home of W. C. Bailey.

Firemen blamed a faulty oil furnace.

Damage was set at $200 to a 1962 Thunderbird owned by Elsie Geisse, 1701 Chester Ave., Friday afternoon at 3:45.

The car caught fire at 15th St. and Chester Ave. It was confined to the motor compartment and was caused by a faulty carburetor, firemen said.

A Flair For Hair

It's What's On Top That Counts,
Hairdressers And Women Agree

By CLARA HALL

Mirror, mirror on the wall,
Tell me who is fairest of all,
And if I am not the one,
Show me just what can be done.

This bit of rhyme may not serve as the official slogan for "National Beauty Salon Week" starting Monday, but it helps underscore the importance of beauty in the life of every woman in the Tri-State Area.

There was a time when a woman's "total look" depended entirely on her own beauty talents. Today however, with about one beauty operator for every 20 women, milady can always look as if she stepped out of a band box.

Beauty still may be considered skin deep, but with so much

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

Feature Pages

East Liverpool, O., Saturday, Feb. 13

emphasis placed upon it and with so many beauty parlors coming to the rescue, there is no need for the outdated look.

IT IS NO longer a chore to go to the beauty shop, for the girls look forward to it as a place to relax, catch up on the latest news (and little bits of gossip) and form many interesting friendships.

Where once a shop was primarily for professional hair care, the services now include facials, manicuring, pedicuring, eyebrow arching, make-up applications and reducing aids.

This creative age we live in affects us in more ways than one—grandma no longer looks like "grandma" but just a slightly older edition of "ma-ma."

Mrs. Helen Clark, chairman of the "beauty week" observance of Local Unit 15 of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, commented on the latest in hair fashions.

"Swingheart" describes the theme used for the new spring and summer designs of care-free and lighthearted hair styles that really swing when the head is moved.

FOR DAYTIME, the new collection features soft curves on smooth and airy coiffures of simplicity and casualness. Evening calls for dramatic exaggeration with more voluptuous combing into waves and curls. Mrs. Mary Lou Cunningham, left, models the "Dollie Curl" inspired by Carol Channing in the Broadway show "Hello Dollie." The smooth curves frame and flatter the face and the ends flip gently, giving the entire countenance a shining upward lift.

The close harmony between clothing and hair fashions is described by the newly coined word, "raffine." In fashions it means simply, refined, as sugar; delicate, to the taste, and subtle and clever, in the mind. "Soft chic" replaces "tough chic," clothes are more civilized than ever, thus the refined, genteel look. The trend is less mature than last year, the body is back, the shape is slim, the line is high, and the skirt, wide and soft.

HAIR STYLING procedures, seemingly simple, really are not. Nowadays it is not just the shampoo and set and that's that. There are so many other processes, depending on what condition the hair is in—creme rinses for dry hair, preparations for oily hair, color rinses, tinting and conditioners.

From the once simple hair pin has developed the bobbie pin, the waver, the clippie and now all types of rollers. No longer are curling irons a necessary part of every woman's beauty needs; they are museum pieces.

Hair, though teased and styled wild with imagination, is still woman's crowning glory and although we wonder if the opposite sex appreciates the results of the styling—we feel they do—hairdos create continual comment, whether the men approve of the extreme fashion, or not.

A hair-raising technique is "teasing," or combing out the strands, as undertaken by Clyde Silverthorn on Miss Beverly Kinsey of 826 Riverview St., at the Ceramic Beauty Salon.

The "Raffine Look" in dress and hair fashion... as designed by the JoAnne Maria Styling Center — is modeled by Mrs. Mary Lou Cunningham of Market St.

Mrs. Helen Mueller, Midland shop operator, shampoos the hair of Mrs. Dona Migliore of Park Pl., Midland.

A manicure is given by Mrs. Edna Anderson to Mrs. Lester Smith of Riley Ave. at the A. & H. School of Beauty Culture. Others under the dryers are Mrs. Paul Taylor, Mrs. Albert Clark, Mrs. Alice Kasica and Mrs. Alice Shooshan.

Smart hair styles require shear artistry as shown by Miss Loraine Bolton on the locks of Miss Dorothy Beverly of Salineville at the Lewis-Weinberger & Hill Academy of Cosmetology.

Mrs. Mildred Johnston demonstrates hair styling doesn't apply to adults only as she studies a new coiffure of Kris Bradway of E. 3rd St. at the Red Rose Beauty Salon.

In rollers and ready for drying is the coiffure of Mrs. Mary Lou Mansfield of California Ave., Chester, as Mrs. Doris Whittaker works in her Chester beauty shop.

The finishing touch is put on a hairdo of Mrs. Ellen Shipplett of Smithfield St. by her mother, Mrs. Dianne DeVille, president of the local hairdresser's organization, at the Salon DeVille.

Provide Needed Space

City-Owned Parking Lots Help Shoppers And Return Revenue

By ROBERT POPP

The municipal government's venture into the off - street parking lot business has proved successful in its brief life, both from the standpoint of finances and in providing spaces for hard-pressed shoppers to leave their autos. In operation for seven years, the system has provided spots for 95 additional cars and—just as important — brought in $49,225 in revenue between Jan. 1, 1960, and Dec. 31, 1964.

Virtually nothing in tax money is invested. The properties are acquired by issuing bonds to raise the needed capital — covering the purchase price, leveling existing buildings, preparation of the site and installation of meters. The nickels, dimes and quarters dropped into the meters go into a separate "off-street parking fund" that is used primarily to retire the debt.

THE LOT alongside City Hall on the south side of W. 6th St. was the city's first venture into off-street parking. It was acquired in 1955. The original intention was that it might be used sometime in the distant future to expand the municipal building to the west. About two years later, however, the buildings on the site were razed and it was converted to parking.

The overall investment for the property was $20,000, which was amortized completely in 1960. It provides space for 20 autos, with an entrance off W. 6th and an exit via Summit Ln. in the rear. The revenue from the lot totaled $17,995.80 from 1960 to 1964, inclusive.

The smaller lot on W. 6th St., directly opposite City Hall, also represents an investment of $20,000. Bonds for its purchase were issued in September 1960. Then the city razed the fire-swept remains of the former Bennett Grocery and an adjoining lunchroom. The lot provides spaces for 11 autos.

The lot's revenue through 1964 totaled $7,523.30. Three annual installments of $4,000 have been paid on the bonds. Similar payments of $4,000 will be made this year and in 1966, marking the amortization of the debt.

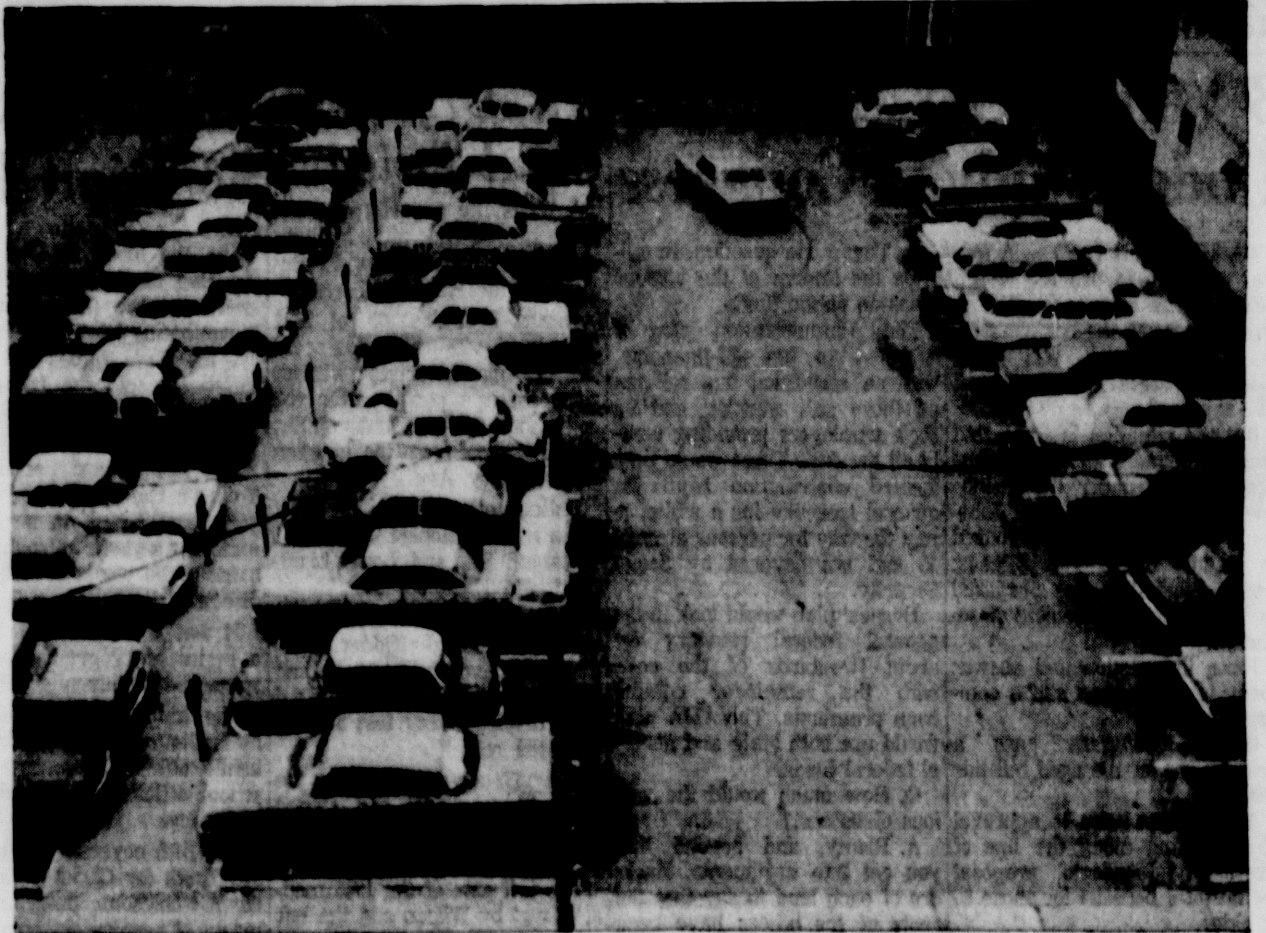

The largest site converted to parking is the former Ceramic Theater lot on E. 4th St. Purchase of the building, leveling and surfacing the site and installation of meters brought the overall investment to $60,000.

Bonds for the project were issued in 1962, but the first $5,000 installment on the debt was not due until 1964. That leaves $55,000 remaining to be amortized in annual installments of $5,000 through 1975.

THE LOT'S revenue from the time of its establishment through Dec. 31, 1964 amounts to $15,363.87.

The site provides spaces for 38 cars. The other two off-street lots did not represent an investment, other than the cost of the meters, because they already were owned by the city. They are the two lots on opposite sides of Market St. at 3rd St. Each provides spaces for a dozen cars.

The two lots were established in mid-1960 and to date their revenue totals $5,573.35 according to the figures compiled by City Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger and E. Allan McKeever, his chief deputy. The lots brought in $713.75 in 1960. Revenue in the other years was: 1961, $1,319.

One of the busiest of the city's parking lots is that located on the site of the former Ceramic Theater on E. 4th St., accommodating 52 autos.

This map depicts the proposed three new city parking lot sites in shaded areas, while the present city-owned lots are marked in black.

59; 1962, $1,257.44; 1963, $1,114.72, and 1964, $1,167.85.

The city wound up 1964 with a balance of $8,344.50 in the off-street parking fund, just a little short of the $9,000 in debt requirements for all the lots in 1965.

Adding together the revenue from the 3rd St. lots and the three which the city acquired by purchase gives the overall total of $49,225 produced by the lots in the four years 1960-64.

IN ADDITION to debt requirements, other expenses of the operation are paid out of the off-street parking fund.

It provides the salary for one "Meter Maid," approximately $3,113 a year; pays the bill for on-site electric lighting and provides about $885 a year for real estate and personal property taxes. The lots are subject to real estate tax and the meters are taxable as personal property.

Three more tracts have been offered to the city within the last few months for conversion into off - street parking.

The proposals have been under study by Council. A committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the East Liverpool Merchants Association is scheduled to confer with Council on the proposals in caucus session Monday night.

W. Leland Thompson of Park Blvd. has offered the city two adjoining tracts on E. 3rd St. with a total area of 60-x-130 feet.

Thompson first offered the city the site of the former Orthodox Jewish Synagogue on the north side of E. 3rd, a tract which is 30-x-130. He said he would sell the property outright for $8,500 or lease it for five years at $65 monthly, with an option to buy.

ABOUT FOUR months later, Thompson gave Council a proposal to sell a second plot adjoining the synagogue property, also 30-x-130 feet. He quoted a price of $10,000 for the site, which now is occupied by two frame homes. Thompson said the $10,000 price would represent a loss of $1,700 to him, but he said because of his great interest in providing additional parking spaces.

The W. 5th St. property is part of the estate of the late Miss Hazel Laughlin. The tract is 40-x-130 feet, lying on the south side of W. 5th St. just east of Jackson St. It also is occupied by two frame houses.

The land was offered to the city officially a few months ago by Roy Wilson, trust officer of the First National Bank, as executor of Miss Laughlin's estate.

He quoted a price of $36,000 and said Miss Laughlin once was offered $38,000 for the property. It would provide spaces for an estimated 20 cars.

The Lighter Side

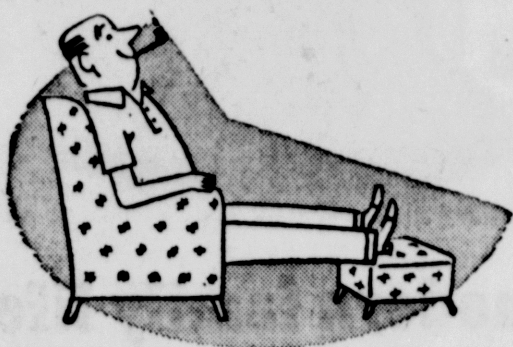

When you reach a certain age, you become "old," even "ancient," sometimes an object of scorn.

Not to yourself, mind you, but to those who have the good fortune—or misfortune, depending on how you look at it—to be younger than you, much younger in most cases.

It's pretty rough to merely shrug off such piercing remarks as "There's the old-timer," "Did they use a peach basket when you played basketball?" "Was the football blown up or stuffed?" "Where did you keep your horse and buggy?"—and other cruel jabs.

When you determine to take the whole thing in stride and laugh it off, laugh as you will, it has a hollow sound. You begin to feel deep down in your heart that your friendly (?) agitators might have something—you are getting old!

Just when the bridge seems the only answer, the very past which has gotten you into this tormenting predicament comes to the rescue in a strange and rather ironic manner. Your thoughts start to lazily float back through the years. Scenes that flash on the screen of memory are pleasant and heart-warming on the whole. You realize that time has been good—the friendships many and cherished, the experiences enjoyable.

SUDDENLY, INSTEAD of feeling depressed, you do an about face. Those who have been applying the "needle" are the ones to be pitied—not you. What treasures they have missed by "being born 30 years too late"—like:

Old Heimie Davis—God rest his soul—as he bellowed his never to be forgotten "Get the air!" in clearing his store on the corner of E. 6th and Washington Sts. of the loafers who were as much a part of the scene as the magazines and cigars which stocked the shelves and display cases. In present-day English "Get the air!" would mean "Scram!" "Beat it!" or "Get the air!" for that matter.

The thrill of seeing stage productions at the Ceramic and Strand theaters—some good, some bad, but, nevertheless, honest to goodness stage productions.

Getting 10 "shots" of whisky for a dollar, so cheap—but still tasty—that you often dumped it on the bar and burned it for kicks.

The fascination and excitement of watching the inning results of the World Series on the big mechanical scoreboard erected each fall in front of the old Review building on Washington St. The only distraction was the Newell trolley car as it made its runs to and fro.

Bill Watkin, one of the best of his day, as he called a foul while refereeing a basketball game in the dramatic way that only Bill could do it.

The ice ball man—with more flavors than Howard Johnson's ice cream menu—and the ice cream man himself, rotund but always cheery Ramsey, whose "Chocolate and vanilla!" echoed for blocks as he made his rounds.

THE JOKES OF the "Two Black Crows"—"My dog got his tale cut off by a train." "Did it hurt his carriage?" "No, but it sure ruined his waggin!"

Music lessons from Professor Laughlin. How you hated them then, but how you miss them now.

The rollicking trolley ride from here to Wellsville—and back; one of the few occasions when you could experience seasickness on land.

Going to Forbes Field for a ball game and being able to buy a ticket for the best box seat in the house without even an argument. The Bucs weren't packing them in too often in those days.

The picturesque excursion boats which plied the Ohio and their Sunday dockings at the improvised wharf not too far from Rock Springs Park.

The thrill of bringing in California on one of the early radio sets after sitting up half the night twisting the dial.

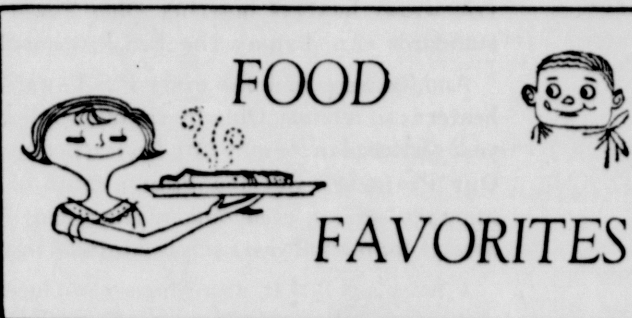

Talking on the front porch with Tim Ferguson—a friendly and most likeable man with a Will Rogers touch.

CHASING AFTER the ice truck to grab a cooling sliver on a hot day. But along with the ice truck went the disgusting chore of emptying the ice pan which reposed under the ice box. If you got it to the sink without spilling it all over yourself or the floor, it was considered a miracle.

Corn silk in home-rolled cigarettes; Indian tobies from obliging trees; the first pair of long trousers; thrilling to the exploits of Big Bill Tilden, Babe Ruth, Bobby Jones, Charlie Paddock, Red Grange, Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney and the other giants of sports; and so on.

Old! With memories such as those and with the challenges of the future, not on your life!

Cooking Hints

Oysters reproduce from eggs and the average - sized oyster may produce as many as 500 million eggs in a season. Many of the eggs are eaten by other sea animals, and the oyster must lay many eggs in order for any to survive.

To give a roast of lamb or lamb chops piquant flavor, crumble rosemary and mix with olive oil, salt and freshly ground pepper. Spread the mixture over the roast or chops before putting in the oven or under the broiler.

You And The Law

It is night when you alight from the bus on your way home from work. Stepping into the street you walk a few steps when — wham — you trip, fall and bruise yourself severely.

The driver is helpful, but states that it really wasn't his fault as you were off the bus and walking away when you fell down. You point out, however, that the place where he stopped is full of chuck holes.

WAS THE driver correct in his statement because you had left the bus? Not according to a recent opinion of the Supreme Court of Ohio. A "common carrier" has the duty to afford a "reasonably safe place" for passengers to leave the carrier, the court ruled. The passenger has the right to assume that it is a reasonably safe place to alight because he has no control over where the bus will stop.

According to the law, the "common carrier" such as bus, taxi or train has a duty to exercise the highest degree of care to give its passengers an opportunity to leave the vehicle in a reasonably safe place. The fact that a person takes several steps from the carrier before injuring himself does not relieve the carrier of responsibility.

HOWEVER, THE passenger must exercise "ordinary care" for his own safety. If his own negligence contributes to his injury, there can be no recovery.

Under modern interpretation, if the bus or common carrier negligently lets a passenger off in an unsafe place, its liability continues until he, in the exercise of ordinary care, has had a reasonable opportunity to reach a safe place.

As the court said in its opinion, "no one could seriously contend that a place with a concealed cliff or quicksand some feet away is not unsafe."

Medical Tips

Sore throat is nature's warning system that something in your body is out of order.

Often a sore throat accompanies a common cold and the soreness passes in a few days with no further affect. But, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, a sore throat also can be the symptom of any of a wide range of diseases, from diphtheria to leukemia, that require your doctor's skill, not your guessing, to diagnose.

Sometimes tonsils and adenoids are involved in causing a sore throat. And when these organs cause trouble they frequently are removed.

Allergies can cause sore throats. Cold, dry winter air can trigger it. So can extreme thirst, excessive smoking or mouth breathing.

Virus infections of many types are a cause of sore throat. And everyone who has had "flu" knows that this particular virus disease often causes the throat to hurt.

"Strep throat," is a serious infection that occasionally leads to rheumatic fever and possible heart damage. It can be knocked out with penicillin, if it is diagnosed in time.

There is little or nothing you can do to cure a sore throat at home, says Today's Health. There are medications which bring temporary easing of the discomfort but the cure must be launched by your physician.

Stamps In The News

Israel's first commemorative stamps for 1965 will honor the town of Masada and will depict three scenes there, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency in America.

Masada was the last stronghold in Israel's eight - year war of liberation against the Romans during the first century A.D. The ancient city is now a mountain village in the modern state of Israel and a popular tourist site.

The 25 agorot green stamp shows a view of Masada from the west. The 36 agorot blue depicts the ruins of the lower terrace of the Palace of Masada. The one pound blue illustrates the northern palace of Masada. On each stamp there is a tab inscribed "Masada Shall Not Fall Again."

The new Israel stamps are available at your local stamp dealer.

Postmaster General John A.

Gronouski announced that a 25 cent stamp will be issued on Feb. 25 for use in vending machines. It will be the highest denomination ever to be issued in coil form. The first-day site is Wheaton, Md., the nation's first self - service post office.

The green stamp is identical to the 25-cent Paul Revere adhesive issued in sheet form at Boston on April 18, 1958. The design is based on a photo print of the Gilbert Stuart portrait of 1813.

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations of the 25-cent coil stamp may send their addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Silver Spring, Md. 20907. All covers will be canceled at the Wheaton classified station and will bear the Wheaton, Md., postmark. The envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers 25c Paul Revere Stamp." Requests must be postmarked not later than Feb. 25.

The Bahamas has issued a new set of 15 stamps in various colors and with colored borders depicting local scenes and portraits.

Most Observers See Approval

3 Versions Of Medicare Under Study In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal program to provide health care for the elderly is picking its way through the congressional labyrinth again this year. Most observers expect it will win approval.

But the situation is somewhat tangled because three versions are actually under discussion: one that has President Johnson's backing; another espoused by many House Republicans, and a third that was prepared by the American Medical Association.

Here, in question and answer form, is a run-down and a comparison:

Q. Will Congress pass a health care for the aged bill this year?

A. All signs point to approval of something along the line of President Johnson's proposal for hospital benefits for those 65 or older.

Q. How far would it go?

A. It would be limited to some hospitalization, convalescent care in nursing home or at home and some diagnostic and similar outpatient services. Ordinary doctor bills and medicines would not be covered.

Q. Isn't there other legislation pending in Congress that would provide broader health benefits?

A. Yes. Two bills that have been much discussed lately call for covering many more kinds of health costs. These are a bill introduced by Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., in behalf of a group of Republicans and another measure drafted on suggestion of the American Medical Association.

Q. Why isn't everybody for these, if they would do more for the old folks?

A. Several factors are involved, mainly coverage and cost. The Administration bill would provide its limited benefits to all those 65 and over as a matter of right, without questioning them on income or property, and without cost to the beneficiary after he has retired.

Byrnes' bill would offer broader benefits to all the aged, but those who could pay would be charged a premium, which he estimates would average $6 a person a month.

The AMA bill contemplates covering the aged by private health insurance, with help to lower-income persons in paying the premiums. The states would set the financial standards at which retired persons would qualify for help.

Q. So the question is whether the aged as a group would prefer to have limited help for all at no cost to them, or to have the possibility of bigger benefits, but with an income factor in one way or another?

A. That's one question. Another is the impact of the various plans on public funds.

The Administration plan is designed to be self-financing, with an additional pay roll tax on those still working and on their employers providing nearly all the cost. There would be a limited contribution from the general treasury for a while, to pay the way for persons already 65 and not covered by Social Security.

Byrnes' plan would look to the general federal treasury for about two-thirds of the cost, with the remainder coming from premiums. The AMA plan would use both state and general federal funds.

Q. How much would the various plans cost?

A. Plenty, and beyond that you get into arguments. Backers of each tend to say that the costs of the others have been underestimated. Social Security actuaries estimate the Administration plan would have a first-year cost of about $1.7 billion, all of which would be raised from the new pay roll tax on employers and employees, plus about $50 million net from the general treasury. The $50 million would be the difference between the amount the federal government would put up for the benefits to the aged not covered by Social Security, and the savings that would come from reduced welfare expenditures for some of these same people.

Byrnes has estimated the cost of his plan, above what would be contributed in premiums, at $2 billion to $2.4 billion, all out of the federal treasury, assuming all those eligible signed up, which he says is unlikely.

There is no way to figure accurately in advance the cost of the AMA plan, because so much would depend on the standards established by the states. Its backers say it would cost less than the Administration plan.

Q. So it's all settled that the Administration bill is the one that is going to pass?

A. By no means. Backers of the others are fighting hard to have theirs substituted in whole or in part. Moreover, the bill that comes out of the Ways and Means Committee will not be exactly the Administration bill as introduced, although the main outlines likely will be the same.

That is why no very meaningful comparisons of benefits and costs with the rival measures can now be made. But, given the heavy Democratic majorities in the committees and in the two chambers of Congress, it now seems probable that a bill close enough to the original to please Johnson will be enacted.

Parked Cars Hit, Driver Cited Twice

A Wellsville motorist was cited on two charges after his auto struck two parked cars Friday night in the East End.

James Franklin, 40, of 1801 Nevada St. was accused of reckless driving and driving without an operator's permit after the collision at 9:27 on Elizabeth St., about 100 feet from the junction with Harvey Ave.

Police said the parked autos are owned by Robert Wilson, 412 Elizabeth St., and Louis Landfried, 414 Elizabeth St.

Patrolman S. E. Hayes said a witness, Clifford Kidder, 2103 Crawford Ave., told him he had been driving "very fast and all over the road."

The 1957 auto operated by the Wellsville motorist and owned by Robert Warren, 602½ 8th St., Toronto, is a possible total loss.

The left side of the 1955 model owned by Wilson and the left side and rear of Landfried's 1960 sedan were damaged, police said.

Lions Hear Pittsburgher Christly Approach Seen Solution To Delinquency

Sin, the blood of Christ and the love of Christ are the answers for the three unknowns in combating juvenile delinquency, the Rev. James Leckie of Pittsburgh told the Lions Club Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

The founder and president of Youth Guidance, Inc., an organization based on a plan of matching a youth in trouble with a man who wants to help, also discussed its program.

It was the sixth and last in a series of programs the club sponsored on juvenile behavior.

The first four were discussions by law enforcement officials, juvenile officials, attorneys and school officials on juvenile delinquency.

The fifth covered the work of the Youth for Christ in presenting a wholesome program as a means of keeping children out of trouble and yesterday's touched on a program to help those already in trouble.

Rev. Leckie recalled attending a Presidential prayer breakfast in Washington at which the Rev. Billy Graham pointed out the nation is beset on all sides with problems.

There is only one answer and that was given by Christ when he said, "I am the way and the light," Rev. Leckie said.

"We've talked, argued and wrestled with this juvenile problem for some time, but we finally are beginning to come up to date and accept God's program."

A federal commission has spent four years in seeking the cause of juvenile delinquency, but it has yet to issue its first progress report and most statements indicate the results are not conclusive, the Pittsburgh minister said.

Many have compiled "pet lists" of the causes, but they are not the causes, but only contributions. "They are the matches, but what is the powder?"

Jesus gave the answer, Rev. Leckie said, when he said that what comes from within a man defines him.

"Most of us have been working in the opposite direction. We start working on the outside and work in, but God's method is to work from the inside out by changing hearts.

"Sin is the match that causes the explosion," he continued, pointing out that about 98 per cent of delinquency can be traced to home situations against which the youngster finally rebels.

Rev. Leckie said many slum areas were removed and housing developments erected, but they often become centers of delinquency. "We don't need to change surroundings; we need to change people," he declared.

The second unknown is the application or cure, he said, pointing out that Christ offered the cure when he said his blood "cleanseth all sin."

"The only way to change the heart is the introduction of Christ into the daily life. That's not an automatic cure but the youth no longer faces his problems alone, but has someone he can talk with."

The third unknown is motivation. "How do you motivate a lethargic society which stems from the fact that it has no reason to be motivated?"

Those helping in the Youth Guidance program do so not out of pity but because of a love of Christ, Rev. Leckie continued, explaining they are so thrilled with what Christ has done for them that they want to share it with others.

Discussing the Youth Guidance program briefly, Rev. Leckie said it tries to assign a man of about equal economic status with similar likes and dislikes to a youngster.

He is asked to meet with the boy once a week but to work with him as a friend, not as a counselor.

The Pittsburgh organization is planning its first parental seminar for a weekend in May to get them away from their environment and to show them how to raise a child. "But we don't have all the answers," Rev. Leckie said.

He pointed out many parents need to be taught how to discipline children. When they spank

Six Children Die In Blaze Near Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Six children were killed early today when a fire destroyed their rural home about seven miles southwest of here. An 11-year-old boy escaped by jumping out a second-story window.

James Cutshaw, 29, father of two of the victims, was taken to the Lucas County Jail and booked as a material witness. Sheriff's deputies said Cutshaw, who told them he had been looking for a baby sitter when the fire started, probably would be charged with neglect.

The victims were aged 3 months to 14 years.

Deputy Paul O'Conner said Cutshaw and the former Ora Grissom, 29, had been living as common-law man and wife. Three of the children who died were hers by another marriage. The other victim was her niece.

Another child of the Cutshaws, 13-month-old Theresa was staying at neighbor's house.

Mrs. Cutshaw has been in Columbus told them she took the pills over a two-day period because "Ringo has gotten married." She was hospitalized after she became sick at school yesterday.

Marriage Of Ringo Lands Girl In Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 14-year-old girl who told police she was depressed by Beatle Ringo Starr's marriage, has been hospitalized here after taking 16 aspirin tablets.

Police said Janice Wise of Columbus told them she took the pills over a two-day period because "Ringo has gotten married." She was hospitalized after she became sick at school yesterday.

youth does something more active, Judge Tobin said.

HE PROMISED the co-operation of Juvenile Court but suggested the organization does not include a court representative in its setup.

Rev. Leckie, who volunteered any help the Pittsburgh organization can give, suggested the permanent organization be kept as simple as possible so that it does not bog down in paper work.

However, he urged a full-time administrator in order to have someone in charge, assigning counselors to the boys, locating additional counselors and supervising their training.

The minister said, "A detention home often offers security the youths never have known. They sometimes will do anything to get back." That is one of the prime reasons for "repeaters."

THE SPIDER!

THE NATIONAL PEST CONTROL ASSOCIATION recently issued a warning to home owners of a hermit-like spider. This spider can cause an ulcer-like wound that can be very painful. This member of the spider tribe is generally considered to be beneficial to man. It is small... usually less than a half inch long... and soft bodied. When it bites... the effects can be dangerous. Scars from these bites have been reported as large as a half dollar. A person bitten by one of these insects should consult a physician immediately.

DON'T "Do-It-Yourself"

If you are careful, it is possible for you to have some degree of success as your own pest control operator, but it could also be dangerous. Approximately 99% of all accidents growing out of lethal insecticides are caused by some inexperienced person who has unknowingly applied the chemical. The cost of a professional service is very often no more... in many cases it is less... than do-it-yourself methods. The risk involved is great... too great!

Let Us Solve The Problem

Don't let a pest problem perplex you. Let us solve the problem the easiest and safest way. FISH-ER PEST CONTROL operators are professional pest control operators who have been serving the people of this area for years. We are now prepared to deal with any pest problem adequately. Give us a call at FULTON 5-5720. We'll be happy to stop by and give your home a free inspection... then tell you what service, if any, is needed to free your home of dangerous, annoying pests. Beaver Youth Killed By Car

BEAVER — A 16-year-old Beaver Falls boy died of shock and multiple injuries late Friday night when stuck by a car while crossing Route 551, two miles north of Beaver Falls.

Officers of the Chippewa Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Patrol said Gregory V. Mitchell was hit by an auto driven by Thomas M. Buksa, 18, of Darlington R.D. 2, after alighting from another in which he had hitchhiked a ride.

Dr. John W. Colavincenzo, coroner, pronounced the boy dead at the scene.

State police appealed to the driver of the car in which the Mitchell boy had been given a ride to contact them to supply information needed in the investigation.

They stressed that there are no charges against the driver, but information that he may have is pertinent to the investigation.

The dead youth, was wearing white tennis shoes, brown jacket and dark trousers, and had a crew-cut, officers said in supplying details that may help the motorist recall picking up his passenger. He apparently received the ride in the vicinity of Wallace Run Rd.

GIRLS present a more serious problem since 90 per cent of the cases involve morals, he said.

He has ordered some girls to attend church but they are not accepted by church members and often made to feel like pariahs. "No one wants to be treated that way and the first thing you know they are back with the 'old crowd'."

Dr. Whittington explained the Youth Guidance Council in New Castle, which basically is a voluntary counseling program for 14 weeks.

After the period has elapsed, the offender meets with a Review Board and the case is either dismissed or he is referred to a clinic.

He termed Rev. Leckie's "big brother" idea as "tremendous."

THE NEW Castle group has not worked with industry and labor attempting to find jobs for some boys 16 and 17, he told Judge Tobin, adding that no work is done in the schools.

Compa emphasized in conclusion the organization is not being established to eliminate the programs of the Ministerial Association, Jaycees or other groups, but to work with them.

to protest the arrests of a number of leading opposition politicians last Jan. 28, including three who have been accused of plotting with Indonesia to set up a government in exile and promote armed revolution here.

The government radio broadcast a statement saying the former chairman of the Socialist Front, Ishak Bin Haji Mohammed, one of those arrested last month, had "openly confessed that he collaborated with the Jakarta regime to try to overthrow the government of Malaysia."

Ishak confessed that he had received "monthly contributions from Indonesia for subversive activities and had also been in regular contact with an Indonesian agency," the government statement said.

The government also announced that a group of 24 Indonesian guerrillas in two motorized sampans attempted to land Friday night near Kukup, on the southwestern tip of Malaya.

A Malaysian naval patrol boat captured one boatload of 10 off the coast. The other boat with 14 men managed to land, but after an initial battle eight were captured and one was killed, the government said.

strators away from the embassy building, then grappled with some of them in a running fight along the Seine.

The youths chanted "Johnson... assassin!" and "Peace in Viet Nam!"

Witnesses said at least 10 policemen suffered cuts and bruises when struck by stones, beer bottles and other missiles. Several demonstrators were roughed up by police.

The police turnout was the largest seen in Paris since the violent days during the Algerian rebellion.

In San Francisco, demonstrators hoisted the Communist Viet Cong flag atop the city's new federal building. Guards quickly lowered the red and blue banner.

About 500 persons marched in front of the building. State Assemblyman John Burton, D-San Francisco, told them: "We want the war in South Viet Nam stopped and we want it stopped now."

The group then marched downtown.

About 100 Communist youths tar-bombed the walls of the First National Bank of Boston in Buenos Aires, Argentina. There was no major violence. Police arrested one demonstrator when anti-Communist onlookers threatened to beat him up.

At Cordoba, Argentina, Communist youths yelled anti-U.S. slogans and hurled tar bombs against the U.S.-Argentine Cultural Exchange Institute and littered a street with anti-American leaflets.

In Oslo, Norway, mounted police cleared away about 150 persons who carried anti-American placards in front of the U.S. embassy. Some of them scuffled with the crowd. Three demonstrators were arrested.

The placards read "Hands off Viet Nam," "U.S.A. out of Viet Nam" and "Free elections in Viet Nam."

Police said several known Communists were in the group.

In Vienna, about 50 Austrian Communist party members were kept away from the U.S. embassy. A delegation handed a petition to American officials.

About 200 chanting youths staged a protest at the embassy in Prague, Czechoslovakia. Embassy officials said police kept them well away from the building.

The Communist government of Poland issued a statement accusing the United States of aggression against North Viet Nam and said the U.S. air raids created a new situation about which it had dispatched instructions to the Polish delegate to the International Control Commission on Indochina.

The statement gave no indication what these instructions were. Poland, along with Canada and India, is a member of the commission set up in 1954 to police the Geneva agreement on Indochina.

Forty South Vietnamese students in Japan were joined by students from Malaysia, Burma, Thailand and Japan, in an orderly demonstration in central Tokyo calling for immediate suspension of the Viet Nam war.

North Viet Nam and its Asian Communist allies continued to condemn the U.S. strikes. Communist Chinese and North Korean newspapers carried front-page stories attacking the United States.

The Central Committee of the National Liberation Front of South Viet Nam, the official name for the Viet Cong, sent a message to its units congratulating them on the Feb. 7 attack on U.S. installations at Pleiku which touched off the air raids.

The message called the attack "a major victory of important significance."

Budget Read At Ohioville

A proposed budget of $55,443.73 received second reading at a special meeting of the Ohioville Council Thursday night.

The figures show an increase of $22,117 over last year's budget, according to the secretary, Mrs. Earl Carroll.

There will be no changes in taxes however, due to an anticipated increase in revenue as a result of new building in the borough, she said.

The present rates call for 7 mills on real estate and 3 mills per capita.

The major expenditures in the new budget include: general funds, $11,385; protection, $4,568; streets and highways, $7,750; special services, $250, and miscellaneous, $250.

The increase includes payment for a new truck, a $25-per month pay increase for police and the erection of several street lights.

Final adoption is scheduled at a regular meeting on March 4.

The budget will be open to public inspection at the home of the secretary for 10 days, beginning Tuesday. Hours will be 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Louis Poff, president, presided.

headquarters in Chicago, still claiming their man was ahead.

In Pittsburgh, McDonald forces claimed he was ahead.

The vote count itself came to a virtual standstill.

McDonald, steelworkers president for 12 years, said at a news conference in Pittsburgh that he would be returned to office but declined to predict his victory on the basis of figures he had tabulated.

Production at the nation's steel mills is continuing at a rollicking pace, companies reported.

There was indication that buyers were looking beyond the election to the earliest strike date — May 1 — and accumulating stockpiles against that possibility.

Automakers, in particular, were reported trying to build stockpiles. General Motors, Ford and Chrysler said they want to build 60-day supplies.

Meanwhile, the election count dwindled to a trickle.

A tabulation by The Associated Press showed Abel holding a narrow unofficial lead over McDonald.

Locals 2,816 (out of 3,300): McDonald 268,608, Abel 275,900. McDonald produced figures showing him leading 270,522 to 267,998. Abel's headquarters has stopped tabulating.

Inquest Into River Death 'Inconclusive'

An inquest by a coroner's jury Friday night into the death of a woman whose body was found floating in the Ohio River Monday night was inconclusive. Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland, Hancock County coroner, said today.

Squire Herron said the jury concluded an "Unknown female met death by unknown means."

An autopsy Tuesday showed only there was no physical evidence of foul play. Because the body had been in the water so long, the cause of death could not be ascertained and no fingerprints were available, he said. Squire Herron said no inquiries have been made since the body was discovered.

Maryland Man Hurt En Route To Chester

Frank A. Pugh, 27, of Deale, Md., suffered facial lacerations and abrasions and contusions when he wrecked his car at 13th St. and Midland Ave. in Midland at 8:10 a.m. today.

He told Midland police he was en route to Chester to visit his mother and apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The 1964 sedan jumped the curb and struck a tree and a light standard before it was stopped by another tree. Police termed the car a possible total loss. He was treated at the Crucible Steel Co.'s emergency hospital.

How does "the mob" get control of a bank?

The racketeers look for a bank to buy into and put their loot to work. Besides providing a clearing house and a way of doing business, a bank is a handy dodge against government scrutiny of their financial dealings. And it provides an aura of respectability.

Next, the syndicate chooses its "nominees" — front men to handle the actual paperwork of buying and running the bank. There usually are two or three front men, one of whom acts as an overseer for the syndicate.

Then, as one government investigator put it, "all the sound banking practices you ever heard of are tossed out the window." He outlined this pattern:

1. The bank makes large, unsecured loans to friends, relatives and associates of the racketeers — no questions asked, no credit checks, often no collateral. Sometimes a scrawled "he's okay" from a top mobster is sufficient for a loan to go through.

2. From borrowers not directly associated with the rackets bank officials accept favors or gratuities, such as new cars, from granting unsecured loans to bad risks.

3. The bank may permit racketeers to open bank accounts under phony names to hinder tax scrutiny.

4. It will purposely keep bad books and records in an effort to cloud the channels followed by illicit funds and to camouflage the crime syndicate's financial activities.

5. The bank is used as a clearing house for checks obtained as payment for gambling losses. These funds, one source said, run into millions annually. The practice aids both the better and gambling house seeking to cut down gambling taxes by obscuring the fact that the checks are gambling payments.

6. The bank will furnish good credit references on all of its hoodlum accounts.

7. Bank tellers will fail to turn in the required treasury currency returns reporting abnormally large deposits of currency and coins, which often signify gambling proceeds. Thus the treasury will be deprived of the "flag" that helps it ferret out such proceeds.

The grand jury investigations are proceeding slowly, but officials say they expect some indictments will develop.

Press Rattles Potters In 73-67 Loss At Martins Ferry

An all-court press thrown up by Martins Ferry at the start of the second half and a big edge at the foul line proved too much for East Liverpool to overcome and the Potters bowed to Martins Ferry, 73-67, Friday night on the Purple Riders' floor.

The press forced the Potters into frequent errors in the third quarter and wiped out an eight-point East Liverpool lead at halftime.

THE THIRD quarter had been a good one for the Potters in the last two games, but was anything but good last night. East Liverpool will take its 10-6 record on the road again tonight, traveling to Niles, where the Dragons have been successful in only three of 14 games. Action will get under way about 8:30.

Coach Frank Chan, who pointed directly to the press used by Ferry as the turning point last night, watched his team outscore the Riders from the field 30 goals to 24.

Officials Gene Lemone of Wheeling and John Davis of Martins Ferry called 23 persons on East Liverpool and 12 against Ferry.

THE RIDERS shot 39 fouls and made 25 for the difference. East Liverpool made seven of 13.

The Potters held a 20-17 margin at the end of the first quarter, kept plugging away and appeared to be well in command of the situation with a 39-31 halftime lead.

Riders Gain Edge At Foul Line

Coach Roger Best ordered his team into the press, however, and the handwriting was on the wall.

East Liverpool had trouble getting the ball up court and committed a dozen turnovers as Martins Ferry moved into the lead in the third quarter.

WITH 4:17 to go in the third frame, Ferry had outscored the Potters 12-2 and had taken a 43-41 lead in a little more than three minutes time.

The Potters did bounce back, however, and grabbed the lead again at 49-48, but failed to score another point in the closing minutes of the third quarter. While they weren't scoring, Martins Ferry rolled up 10 consecutive points and took a commanding 58-49 margin.

WITH FIVE minutes remaining in the game, East Liverpool trailed by 14 points, 66-52, but started a gallant rally that carried to within five points with 1:45 to go.

As the Potters pressed for the ball, they were forced into fouls and Ferry protected its lead from the charity line.

East Liverpool lost two starters on fouls. Ben Springer left with 1:56 remaining and Terry Lawrence with 44 seconds to go. Lawrence saw only limited action due to a back injury.

DAVE SAMUEL, 6-2 senior guard, was the thorn in the Potters' side with 33 points. They came on 10 field goals and 13 of 15 fouls.

Ferry's leading scorer for the season, Dave Redinger, a 6-2 senior, added 15 points and Ed Lasse, 6-6½ center, was good for 23.

East Liverpool's Frank Taylor, leading scorer on the club, whipped in 23 points to pace the Potters. He collected nine goals and five for eight from the foul line.

BOB MALTARICH kept his steady scoring pace with 15 points and Springer added 10. Springer did most of his scoring the first half as the Potters failed to get the ball into the pivot much in the second half.

East Liverpool wound up with a better shooting mark than Ferry with 30 of 75 for 40 per cent, while the Riders canned 24 of 72 for 33 per cent.

The Potters got off to a good start, making 10 of 23 shots the first quarter and nine of 23 in the second. East Liverpool cooled off, however, and showed only four goals in 15 tries during that dark third period.

The victory sends the Martins Ferry record to 11-3 for the season. Niles, the Potters have one

End Potters Streak

East Liverpool's reserve team had their 11 game win streak ended in the preliminary game Friday night at Martins Ferry when the Riders' jayvees edged the young Potters, 64-62.

The loss leaves Coach Bob Dawson's jayvees with a 11-4 record with two games remaining.

MacLean's 20 Leads In 5th Cage Victory

Wellsville fired 55 per cent from the floor but still had to struggle in order to secure a 70-59 victory Friday night at Jefferson Union.

The victory was the fifth in 16 games for the Tigers who entertain Springfield Local tonight in their final home game of the season. Wellsville will be out to avenge an earlier loss to the Jefferson County team which defeated Stanton Local last night, 76-73.

COACH Jack McDevitt's team hit the hoop on 64 per cent of its shots in the second half last night but the Tigers still had their hot and cold spills as the quarter scores reveal.

Wellsville trailed, 17-5 at the end of the first quarter but went on to outscore JU, 26-7 in the second period to grab a 34-24 halftime lead.

It was JU's turn in the third quarter and the Jackets outscored Wellsville 23-16 and cut the lead to 50-47.

THE SCORE was deadlocked 52-52 early in the fourth period until Dick Murray's goal put Wellsville in front for good.

Jeff MacLean, the Tiger's veteran backcourt man, had his best night of the season dropping in 20 points to pace the Wellsville attack. He made his presence felt the most in the second quarter with 10 big points during that period.

PAT WELCH played a key role in keeping the Tigers in the game during the third quarter. He totaled 16 points for the night but 12 of those came in the third frame.

The Tiger attack had balance again with four in the double figures. Behind MacLean and Welch were Harry Thornton with 14 points and Dick Murray who garnered 11.

Rick Riggs of JU finished with 20 points to take game honors.

In the reserve contest, Wellsville's sophomore standout Bob Morehead scored 25 points in leading the Tiger jayvees to a 44-37 victory over the young Jackets.

Hriblan has been averaging slightly over 30 points per game and Morgantown is ranked 12th in the state.

The most impressive win for Morgantown was an overtime victory over Fairmont West, which was ranked No. 4 in the state at the time.

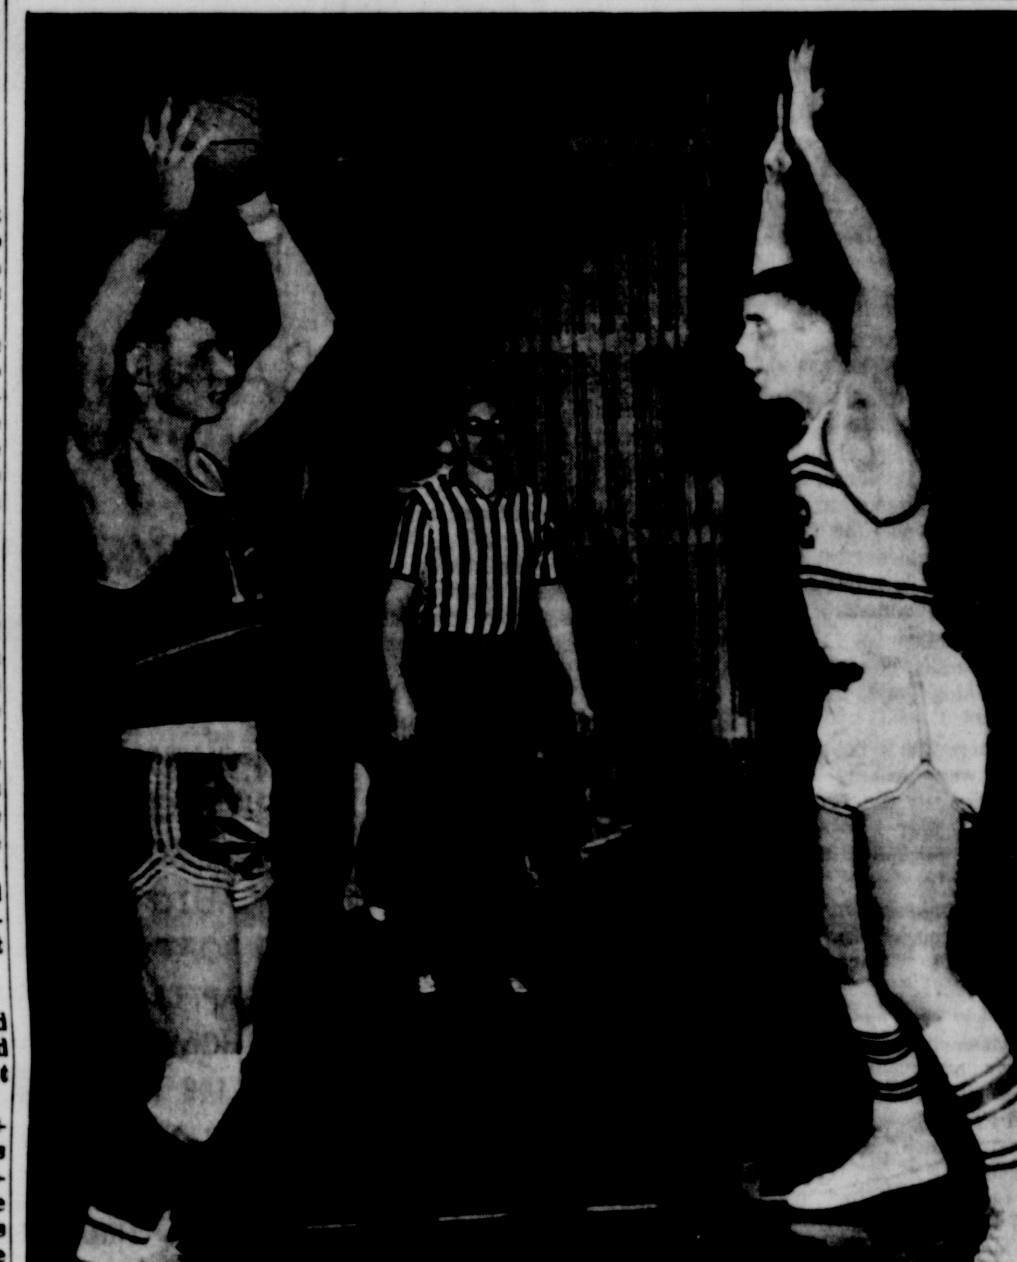

Hriblan, who has a raft of college offers, seems to be leaning towards North Carolina University.

Rams Falter In 2nd Half To Lose 63-50

South Side kept pace for two quarters but faltered in the second half in dropping a 63-50 contest to Section 22 opponent Neville Island Friday night on the South Side court.

South Side only trailed 29-25 at halftime but were outscored 16-10 in the third quarter to fall behind, 45-35.

The loss was the tenth in 12 league starts for the Rams. Frank Hartz tossed in 22 points to lead the Neville invaders but South Side's junior standout Ken Peden was at his best in hooping 25 points while Dave Ashcroft added 14.

The Neville reserves nipped South Side's jayvees, 32-31.

Rudibaugh Tallies 20 In 10th Win

Beaver Local shot a sizzling 58 per cent at Southern Local Friday night and rolled to an 81-55 victory.

The win was a big one for Coach John Pape, who watched his team win its 10th game against six defeats. This guarantees Beaver Local of a successful season and Pape has turned the Beavers into a winning outfit in his second campaign.

THE CONTEST was much closer at times than the final score indicates.

Beaver Local took an 18-17 first period lead and was on top 40-29 at halftime. In the third period, Southern staged a rally that brought the Indians within four points but they cooled off and trailed 53-41 at the end of the third quarter.

Beaver Local finished by burning the nets for 28 points in the final eight minutes.

THE BEAVERS were red hot in the second half making 11 of 16 shots.

Dick Rudibaugh gave another all-around performance in the scoring and rebounding departments. He paced the Beavers from the floor with 22 points while Don Goodman added 16.

United Nips Foe At Charity Line

HANOVERTON — Homer Sturgeon's two foul shots with 18 seconds remaining in the contest, was the difference here Friday night in United's 66-64 comeback victory over Carrollton.

The foul line proved to be United's best friend. Carrollton showed a 26-21 edge in field goals but Coach Jack Mills' United outfit made 24 of 29 fouls to decide the contest from the charity line.

Some nifty foul shooting in the final period proved to be the turning point for the Eagles, who made nine of ten fouls in the last eight minutes.

It was an uphill struggle all the way for United which trailed 19-11 at the end of the first quarter, 31-29 at halftime and 50-47 after three periods.

Carrollton gained its three points advantage at the end of the third quarter when Darryl Locke dropped in a 55 foot desperation shot as the period ended.

Thayer Nets 25 In Losing To Wellsburg

Wellsburg invaded Oak Glen Friday night, took advantage of the foul line and made it two straight over the Golden Bears but not until the hometown put up a bitter struggle before falling, 68-64.

Oak Glen, beaten at Wellsburg earlier in the season, dropped its eighth game against seven victories while the visitors now stand at 10-4 on the season.

COACH Bob Starkey's team returns to action tonight marking the third home game of the week against a strong Morgantown team.

Oak Glen led at spots in the first period but trailed 17-16 at the end of the quarter. The Bears held slim margins in the second period but were behind 39-35 at halftime.

ALTHOUGH they came within two points of the lead at different times, Oak Glen never could gain the lead in the third quarter or in the final period.

Tom Thayer turned in one of his top scoring performances for the Bears but it came in a losing cause. Thayer, a junior, and top scorer on the club poured in 23 points with nine field goals and five-for-five from the foul line. John Brand and Dan Clark added 10 points to the attack.

WELLSBURG showed a fine one-two punch of Jim Mirasola who goaled 22 points and Gene Clemons who finished with 21.

The visitors won the game at the foul line connecting on 22 of 29 fouls while Oak Glen made 12 of 20. The Bears had a 26-23 advantage from the field and shot 36 per cent to Wellsburg's 35 per cent.

Wellsburg won the reserve contest, 62-42. Rayburn and Miller led Oak Glen with eight points each.

Celts Squeeze By Knicks In Extra Period

By The Associated Press

The New York Knickerbockers are giving Boston fans considering they trail the Celtics by 29 games in the National Basketball Association standings and have beaten the defending champions only once in eight season meetings.

The Knicks, who managed to bug Celtic star Bill Russell and Coach Red Auerbach while losing by 28 points the last time the teams met, pushed Boston into overtime Friday night before bowing 94-92.

The Eastern Division leaders, now 50-11 on the season, sputtered repeatedly before John Havlicek's bucket with 30 seconds to play in overtime finally shook off the lowly Knicks.

Elsewhere, Los Angeles whipped San Francisco 114-95 and maintained its two-game Western margin over St. Louis, which walloped Baltimore 144-100.

Havlicek also sank a last-second desperation shot from the corner, sending the Boston-New York game into overtime after the cold-shooting Celtics had blown a seven-point bulge. Havlicek then capped a seven-point closing burst that brought Boston from behind in the extra period.

Sam Jones scored 34 points for the Celtics. Rookie Jim Barnes led New York with 23.

The Lakers outscored San Francisco 10-2 for a 77-64 advantage in the third quarter and won going away. Two layups by Dick Barnett off fast breaks triggered the spurt. Jerry West's 29 points paced the Lakers. Guy Rodgers hit 27 for the Warriors, who lost Nate Thurmond in the final period when the big center re-injured his back.

St. Louis overpowered Baltimore with an 84-point second half. The Hawks hit on 17 of 27 shots in their 45-point third quarter. Charley Vaughn, with 19 points, topped nine Hawks in double figures. The Bullets played without injured Gus Johnson and Walt Bellamy sat out most of the game after encountering early foul trouble.

Flight Cancellation Wins Him New Auto

LOUISVILLE — After attending a convention, Dan Hatfield and his wife headed for the airport and the trip home.

Bad weather had canceled the flight so the Hatfields decided to kill some time by attending a television show.

Hatfield's name was drawn during the show and he won a prize. They drove home in the new imported auto.

Rodriguez Beats Carter

NEW YORK (AP) — Boxing picked up more momentum in New York with another big, noisy turnout for favored Luis Rodriguez' decisive victory over middleweight contender Rubin (Hurricane) Carter at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

It was the first boxing card in the Garden since the 19,100 sell-out for the Floyd Patterson-George Chuvalo heavyweight elimination on Feb. 1.

Rodriguez, the former welterweight champion who holds a 9-0 record over middleweights, may have earned shot at world junior middleweight champion Sandro Mazzinghi of Italy at the Garden in May.

Luis had a narrow escape from disaster — he was floored in the seventh round — but he received a thumping vote of confidence from the three officials.

Judges Al Berl and Tony Rossi each had it 7-3 in rounds while referee Johnny LoBianco had it 6-3-4. The AP scorecard had it 6-3-1 for Rodriguez.

Rodriguez, at 151 pounds, was the 2-1 favorite over the Clifton, N.J., jolter, at 154½. Rodriguez' record is 58-4. Carter's 20-6. Carter is ranked No. 3 among the middles and Rodriguez No. 3 among the welters.

A crowd of 10,866 paid $44.780 at $8 tops for the middleweight 10-round.

Olympic Swim Star Due Honor As 1964 Athlete

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Don Schollander, 18-year-old Yale freshman who won four swimming gold medals in the Olympics at Tokyo last October, will be honored Sunday night as Male Athlete of the Year in 1964.

Schollander, a runaway winner in The Associated Press year-end poll of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters, will receive the Frederick C. Miller memorial trophy. Mickey Wright, the pro golfer voted Female Athlete of the Year a second straight time, had to cancel her appearance at the dinner. Miss Wright, who is nursing a stomach ulcer, was advised by her doctor to remain at her home in Dallas.

Schollander, whose home is in Oswego Lake, Ore., became the first swimmer ever to win four gold medals in the Olympics. His tremendous feat enabled him to become the first swimmer to be named Athlete of the Year in the 34-year history of The AP poll. He also won the Sullivan Award as the nation's top amateur athlete.

Boston Red Sox coaches for 1963 are Sal Maglie, Billy Gardner, Jim Runnels and Len Oka.

Spire Chalks Up 36, But Stanton's Rally Falls Short In 76-73 Defeat

Junior standout Larry Spire had his finest hour of the season pouring in 36 points but it wasn't enough as Stanton dropped a 76-73 decision at Springfield Friday night.

The 36 marked a new high for the Stanton star but it came as the Red Raiders dropped their eighth game in 17 starts.

Stanton trailed 63-49 entering the fourth quarter but made a gallant comeback in the last eight minutes only to fall short, as the Jefferson County team protected its lead at the foul line.

Spire and Ken Russell led the fourth quarter rally which brought Stanton from 14 points and Russell six in the fourth period.

Stanton got behind early trailing 22-9 at the end of the first quarter and 39-28 at halftime.

Spire made 11 field goals and 14 of 21 fouls for his total while Russell finished with 13 points.

Stanton showed a 28-26 advantage in field goals but Springfield scored 24 of 37 foul attempts.

Tom Sweat's 18 points led four Springfield cagers into the double figures with Bob Geisinger following with 17.

UCLA Downs Washington By 83 To 73

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Washington Huskies threw a scare into the UCLA Bruins, the national collegiate basketball champions, in their game last week at Los Angeles. They lost by only 78-75.

It was different when UCLA traveled north to play Washington at Seattle Friday night. The Huskies held the champs to a 34-34 halftime tie before the Bruins went on a 12-point spree for a 63-73 victory.

Gail Goodrich paced the burst that broke the game open. He scored a total of 20 points, 18 of them in the second half.

It was the 26th straight victory in Pacific Athletic League competition for the Bruins, ranked second to Michigan in this week's Associated Press poll. UCLA was the only team in The AP Top Ten to play Friday.

Back East, the Dartmouth Indians also extended their streak, losing their 28th straight Ivy League game. Penn beat them 87-67 in Philadelphia.

The San Francisco Dons, who dropped out of The AP Top Ten this week, crushed Pepperdine 92-69 for their 21st straight in the West Coast Athletic Conference and their 20th straight at home.

Jim Jarvis' two free throws in the last 18 seconds gave Oregon State a 47-45 victory over Stanford at Palo Alto. Bill Westphal's 19 points led Southern California to a 59-57 victory over Washington State at Pullman and touring Oklahoma City defeated Portland 66-59.

California downed Oregon 72-52 at Berkeley behind Mike Henderson's 22 points. The University of the Pacific, led by Keith Swagerty's 26 points and 20 rebounds, downed San Jose 72-56 at Stockton and Santa Clara scored a 85-76 home court triumph over Los Angeles Loyola.

Weber took over the lead in the Big Sky conference by defeating Montana 98-75 at Ogden behind Gene Visscher's 28 points and 21 rebounds. Ed Haskins' 26 points led Idaho to a 85-65 win over Gonzaga at Moscow.

Neil Johnson scored 17 points and made as many rebounds to lead Creighton to an upset 84-66 victory over LaSalle at Philadelphia. Army opened a two-day road trip by tripping Bucknell 64-49 behind a combined 46 points by Mike Silliman and John Ritch. Each got 23.

All-America Bill Bradley, hampered by a thigh injury, scored 20 points, his lowest of the season, in leading Princeton to a 76-55 Ivy triumph over Harvard. Cornell, the Ivy leader, was scheduled to play Yale at New Haven, but the game was postponed to Monday when fog at the Ithaca, N.Y. airport prevented the Big Red team from leaving.

Chance Signs Contract For Big Boost In Pay

LOS ANGELES (AP) — What a difference a year, a 20-game winning season and a salary doubled and more, can make in the life of a baseball pitcher.

Right-hander Dean Chance of the Los Angeles Angels is a case in point.

Today Dino is a contented young man of 23, whose only concern, he says, is to win 20 or more games again this season.

Or, in direct contrast to the Chance of last spring, he says: "I hope to have as good a season as my contract calls for."

The Ohio farm boy-yes, he's really an off-season farmer—signed his 1965 contract Friday. The Angels will never even hint at a sum but it's generally believed the figure was $42,000.

Dean was the central figure in an Angel press conference and seated immediately next to him was a man Chance would hardly speak to at this time a year ago, General Manager Fred Haney.

Chance squawked loud and publicly last year about the Haney-drawn contract. It was around $18,000 or $20,000.

Friday Haney, discounting there had been such sharp differences a year ago, declared: "He was told he would get a raise if he had a good year and he got it."

Chance had a 20-9 record in 1964, the first Angel in the club's brief history to attain the 20-game level. He led the majors in shutouts, 11, and earned run average, 1.65.

And the baseball writers of the nation voted Chance the coveted Cy Young Award.

Texan Shatters World's Indoor Shot Put Mark

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Young Randy Matson of Texas A&M, who broke the world indoor shot put record Friday night says his next goal will be the world outdoor mark.

The 19-year-old Texan heaved the shot 65 feet 8¼ inches dazing a thunderous crowd of 7,000 at the fifth Will Rogers Indoor Games.

The toss eclipsed the 64-11¼ standard set in 1962 by Gary Gubner of New York University. Matson, a 255-pounder said a Dallas meet tonight will be the last indoor competition of the year for him.

He said he plans to lay off a week and begin preparations for a concentrated attack on the outdoor shot put record of 67-10 held by Dallas Long.

Matson stole the show Friday night, following his record-shattering first throw, with heaves of 64-7¼, 63-½, 60-11¼. He scratched at 64-¾.

Ralph Boston, the heralded broad jump wizard, won his specialty but his leap of 24-10¼ was less than spectacular. Olympian Billy Hardin of Louisiana State beat back a challenge from Boston to win the 60-yard high hurdles in 7.4.

OCALA, Fla. — When Harris Rabun, 22, fell from the roof of his house at nearby Oxford, the washing machine was waiting to catch him.

Wall Leads By 6 In Panama Open

PANAMA (AP) — Art Wall Jr., whose game thrives in south-of-the-border sunshine, has forged a six-stroke halfway lead in the Panama Open golf tournament, first stop on this winter's five-tourney Caribbean swing.

Wall, over-all champion on last year's tour and holder of eight Caribbean records, flirted with the course mark for the second straight round Friday before settling for a four-under-par 68 and a commanding margin over runner-up Don Stickney.

The 41-year-old campaigner from Pocono Manor, Pa., threatened to match his dazzling, open-round 63 — one stroke above the course record — until sidetracked by a pair of bogeys on the last two holes. He had added an eagle and five birdies to his first-round total of nine birds when he faltered on the 17th green.

Players from 11 nations are entered in the 72-hole event, which runs through Sunday.

Three Share Top Spot In Phoenix Golf

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The spotlight was on Bert Yancey, Frank Beard and Al Geiberger as the $67,500 Phoenix Open golf tournament moved into its third round today but defending champion Jack Nicklaus was waiting in the wings.

Yancey, the first round leader, shot a 70 Friday, and Beard and Geiberger came through with 69s to tie for the second round lead at 137.

Nicklaus, with a 69, was one of three just two strokes back at 139. The others were Claude King with a 67 and Rod Funseth, who shot a 68.

The scores on the 6,584-yard Arizona Country Club course improved Friday and winds which had swept the desert lay-out the day before died down. Excellent weather was forecast for today's round and Sunday's finale.

Among the name golfers with in striking distance were veterans Doug Sanders at 73-68—141, Julius Boros at 70-72—142 and two-time Phoenix champion Gene Littler at 73-70—143.

British Open champ Tony Lema and Bill Casper Jr., who won last week's $100,000 Desert Golf Classic at Palm Springs, Calif., had 144 each.

OFF THE RECORD

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I clean glass-fiber draperies?

A.—Wash in hot soapsuds or detergent, by hand or in a washer — being sure, of course, to remove all hooks and other attachments that might snag. Rehang while they're still wet (but not dripping), and straighten the hems gently with your fingers. Glass-fiber materials should never be scrubbed during washing, squeezed in a mangle, or twisted. They are never ironed either.

Q.—How can I remove burned bacon drippings from my oven?

A.—Turn off the pilot light, place a bowl of ammonia inside the oven, close the door, and the ammonia fumes will loosen those charred drippings and make the oven easy to clean.

Q.—How can I make easier the job of sealing a great number of envelopes for a large mailing, saving wear and tear on my tongue?

A.—Try moistening the flaps of your envelopes with an ice cube wrapped in a clean cloth. The ice keeps melting fast enough to keep the cloth damp while you're using it.

Q.—How can I remedy chair legs or rungs that have become loosened?

A.—One usually pretty good job of locking these legs or rungs securely in their holes is by driving small brads in the sides of the holes at an angle before forcing the leg tenons or rungs back into the holes. The brads will bend and act as wedges.

Junior Editors Quiz on WHITE COAL

QUESTION: What is meant by "white coal"?

ANSWER: We all know that the power produced by burning coal helped to make the United States the great industrial nation it is. Coal made steam to run railroads, power factories and generate electricity. But other sources of power have been developed. The discovery of petroleum underground gave us fuel oil and gasoline, enormously important to our present civilization. Another great power source is suggested by our picture of the immense flood of white water pouring over Niagara Falls. Water power is what is sometimes referred to as "white coal," because it can do one of black coal's jobs, generate electricity, and because it looks so white foaming down over a dam.

The cross section at upper right shows one way in which the force of "white coal" or falling water is used to generate electricity. A dam is built across a river gorge and a large volume of water backed up into a lake. Some of this water falls down through a part in the dam or powerhouse built to conduct it. Its weight spins a turbine wheel which in turn spins a generator, generating electricity which is then stored or led off to be used for light or power.

FOR YOU TO DO: The value of a modern dam is more than in merely its production of electricity. Look up "dam" in an encyclopedia, and find the other ways in which our country's big dams are serving us.

Un-American Unit Eyes KKK, Muslims In Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities is looking into the possibility of investigating the Ku Klux Klan, the Black Muslims, George Lincoln Rockwell's American Nazi party and the Minutemen.

The action was authorized unanimously at a closed meeting of the committee several days ago.

A resolution, not yet made public, called on chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., to continue preliminary inquiries into matters that had been brought to the committee's attention.

The resolution named no organizations, but, it was learned, discussion at the meeting left no doubt that the four organizations were the ones concerned.

A source familiar with the committee's rules said the resolution is significant because while the chairman has standing authority to assign staff to preliminary checks, a full investigation may be undertaken only by committee vote. The full membership of the committee, therefore, affirmatively associated itself with Willis' inquiries.

The same source cautioned, however, against assuming that the committee necessarily would order an actual investigation and said that hearings, even if agreed on, could not be held without long advance preparation.

Since World War II the committee has given practically all its attention to left-wing groups.

Among the questions to be considered during the preliminary stage are the extent of the committee's authority, the possibility of legislation that might result from an investigation and the religious issue that might be

Ohioville Group Has Guests For Valentine Event

Members of the Brighton Township club were guests when the Ohioville Homemakers' Club met Wednesday afternoon in the fire hall.

A three-tiered cake with swan pillar separation was displayed by Mrs. Ralph Horm, president, who decorated the cake with yellow roses and gold leaves and explained the art of cake decorating.

The making of table arrangements was demonstrated by Mrs. Wesley Saucer and Mrs. Earl Sherman.

A Valentine Day centerpiece was made by Mrs. Wayne Markle. Mrs. Richard Rice was kitchen chairman.

Comic valentines were exchanged and refreshments served.

The Ohioville group will attend a meeting of the Brighton unit Feb. 23 for a lesson on hardware cloth.

The next meeting will be held March 10 in the fire hall when lessons on covering shoes and making scarf smoke rings will be given.

Mrs. Horm attended the annual meeting of the Beaver Home Economics Extension Association Tuesday at Big Knob Grange.

TV Gear Probes Ocean Floor For Shattered Plane

NEW YORK (AP) — Navy and Coast Guard vessels slipped through the swelling sea and swirling fog, their electronic gear probing the ocean floor for pieces of the shattered plane that carried 84 persons to death in the Atlantic Monday night.

The center of attention Friday was the screen of the Navy tug Allegheny's underwater television equipment. On board studying the pictures from the video tape were experts from the Civil Aeronautics Board, Columbia University's Hudson Laboratory and Eastern Air Lines.

The Allegheny picked its way through the fog, taking underwater pictures from which scientists could map the ocean floor and the scattered wreckage of the Eastern Air Lines DC-7B.

Lt. James Guaghan of Bayonne, N.J., skipper of the Coast Guard buoy tender Arbutus, told newsmen there would be no dragging operations until the Allegheny completed its camera mapping of the crash area.

Scientists hope the underwater TV will provide the pattern of the wreckage strewn on the ocean floor, about 75 to 80 feet below the surface and about 6.7 miles south of Jones Beach.

One large piece of wreckage, with the letters "EAL" visible, was seen by the camera of the Allegheny, which, with the aid of powerful lights, probed the bottom late Thursday night and early Friday.

Ohio Bankers Assn. To Back All 4 Of Proposals On Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Bankers Association brought forth a wide smile from Gov. James A. Rhodes during its annual mid-winter meeting Friday with the announcement that the group will support all four statewide proposals that will appear on the ballot in the May primary.

The governor had just finished outlining the four issues when association president James F. Hill of Elyria announced the organization's board had voted unanimously to back the proposals.

In his outline, the governor stressed the part bankers would play in each of the four proposals.

Issue No. 1, the guaranteeing of loans to college students, he explained would be handled exclusively through the banking institutions.

Issue No. 2, the $290 million bond issue for higher education and industrial development, is important to bankers, he said, since they will be providing much of the money for expansion of Ohio business.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three Americans awaited today for arrangements to return to the United States after their 57-foot shrimp boat apparently went off course and grounded near Cuba Wednesday.

The men were taken to a Havana hotel and are well, according to a message from the Swiss embassy, which handles U.S. matters in Cuba.

The three, John Perryer, 20, Ernest Welch Bishop, 52, and Dale Alan West, 28, sailed from Key West last Saturday. They reportedly were not familiar with Florida waters and their boat had no charts.

Young Farmer's Wife Of Ohio For '64 Named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Paul Doughty of near Dresden in Muskingum County has been named the top "Ohio Young Farmer's Wife" of 1964.

Mrs. Doughty received the award last night at the annual banquet of the Ohio Young Farmer Association. Her husband won a corn-growing award.

Robert L. Rager, 32-year-old livestock farmer of near Canal Winchester, was named "Ohio Young Farmer of the Year."

Other winners were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Seibert of Spencer-ville, Auglaize County, "Young Farmer and Wife Community Service Award," and C. R. (Cap) Arnold, deceased, winner of the Ohio Young Farmer's landlond contest.

Rager is married and has two daughters and a son, and is president of Rager Farms, Inc. He farms a 253-acre livestock farm and engages in a wide variety of civic and church activities.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The "students Against the War in Viet Nam" and the "Students For a Strong Stand in Viet Nam" were both expected to demonstrate today.

Ready To Make New Concessions

India Government Spurs Bid To End Bloody Riots

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The government appeared ready today to make new concessions to southern Indians in an attempt to stop the bloody riots that have swept the area since Hindi was declared the official national language.

Fearing for the unity of the country, the government sent emissaries to Tamil-speaking Madras State where language riots have claimed at least 50 lives.

Parliamentary Affairs Minister Satyanarayan Sinha told newsmen the government would consider putting the southerners' language demands into law if looting, rioting and arson stopped.

Hindi became India's only official language Jan. 26 under a 15-year-old provision of the constitution. A separate bill says English may continue as an alternate for 10 years. The southerners fear this would subject them to linguistic, economic and cultural domination by northerners.

As anti-Hindi rioting spread, Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri gave repeated verbal assurances that his government did not plan to impose Hindi on anyone. He had refused, however, to put the guarantees into law.

Three of his cabinet ministers now are telling the southerners that the Hindi-speaking prime minister is ready for a compromise.

One of them, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, daughter of the late Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, said Shastri was ready to agree to the indefinite use of English spoken by the educated in both north and south India.

The Law Ministry in New Delhi was reported to have ordered a draft proposal that could be presented to chief ministers of India's 16 states Feb. 23.

There was concern in New Delhi, however, that Shastri may have waited too long. Some expressed doubts that the government could negotiate with near hysterical mobs of 10,000 or more running loose in a vast section of the country. Students,
